congratulations to adriana brodsky and raanan rein whose edited volume has been chosen as the winner of the 2013 latin american jewish studies association book prize the new jewish argentina aims at filling in important lacunae in the existing historiography of jewish argentines moving away from the political history of the organized community most articles are devoted to social and cultural history including unaffiliated jews women and gender criminals printing presses and book stores these essays written by scholars from various countries consider the tensions between the national and the trans national and offer a mosaic of identities which is relevant to all interested in jewish history argentine history and students of ethnicity and diaspora this collection problematizes the existing image of jewish argentines and looks at jews not just as persecuted ethnics idealized agricultural workers or as political actors in zionist politics this book is a must read for students and scholars interested in immigration to latin america ethnic history and jewish studies but its readership could extend to anybody who is interested in this chapter of social and cultural history ariana huberman haverford college the academic study of judaism requires a systematic inquiry into the history literature and religion and eventually the theology as revealed in the historical documents themselves under this premise three questions of formative judaism encounters the canonical writings of judaism in the context of their creation at a certain time and place how something is said thus becomes as important as what is said bringing nearly fifty years of research to bear on these fundamental questions jacob neusner challenges his readers to face the difficult often unasked or neglected questions about the nature background and purposes of rabbinic judaism and rewards them with an enriched understanding and a stronger foundation for tackling the even more elusive questions concerning the theology of formative judaism this publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details the result for the history of judaism of a documentary reading of the rabbinic canonical sources illustrates the working of that hypothesis it is the first major outcome of that hypothesis but there are other implications and a variety of new problems emerge from time to time as the work proceeds in the recent past neusner has continued to explore special problems of the documentary hypothesis of the rabbinic canon at the same time neusner notes others join in the discussion that have produced important and ambitious analyses of the thesis and its implications here neuser has collected some of the more ambitious ventures into the hypothesis and its current recapitulations neusner begins with the article written by professor william scott green for the encyclopaedia judaica second edition as green places the documentary hypothesis into the context of neusner

s entire oeuvre neuser then reproduces what he regards as the single most successful venture of the documentary hypothesis contrasting between the mishnah s and the talmuds programs for the social order of israel the doctrines of economics politics and philosophy set forth in those documents respectively then come the two foci of discourse halakhah or normative law and aggadah or normative theology professors bernard jackson of the university of manchester england and mayer gruber of ben gurion university of the negev treat the halakhic program that neuser has devised and kevin edgecomb of the university of california berkeley has produced a remarkable summary of the theological system neuser discerns in the aggadic documents neuser concludes with a review of a book by a critic of the documentary hypothesis includes entries for maps and atlases this examination of jewish argentine literature centers on the analysis of eight selected works whose publication dates range from 1910 to 1977 this study will examine poetry and a more abstract novel in addition to novels more overtly concerned with social history this book responds to a question that came to the author from professor maren niehoff of the hebrew university of jerusalem have you written a simple introduction to your documentary theory and method which can serve as a starting point for my students in this book are gathered eight of the more fundamental items of documentary theory and practice three in theory five in practice for professor neihoff s students and anyone else who takes an interest in the formative history of judaism the documentary thesis of rabbinic literature holds that the document the mishnah sifra lamentations rabbah the bavli for example forms the basic building block of the rabbinic tradition excluded by that definition are sayings attributed to and stories told about named sages these cannot serve in the reconstruction of the rabbinic tradition its literature history religion and theology
