the stories you are about to read are from traveling and a culmination from eight years of my wife and i living among the people in lands of rich stories not excluding ireland it has given me great joy to write of our adventures in a format that takes the best of times stirred with some pathos of fallen friends and then mixed into the tales within these reminiscences will be treasured by my wife pat and i forever no one character is represented in his or her entirety and no narrative can be said to be an actual event these storied chapters herein capture our lives as it might have happened i have pasted the wonderful characters together from all the many vignettes we encompassed while dwelling amongst one of the most reflective societies today not reflective in some lofty sense but as in a mirror of life that needs the rich loamy land and vibrant countryside to place one's heart into ireland with not much doubt is the last and most beautiful virginal country left today thanks to flying there are many corners and stories on this earth that i have seen and wrote about of great exotic beauty and depth but the endowments of pastoral ireland leave one breathless it's soft and natural charm is the result of native irishmen resisting the huge industrial revolution that has changed lives within the short span of our diminutive existences the emerald isle is a refuge from the unbridled growth of material things time will undoubtedly take this last resort but there are those of us who have advantaged ourselves with an affair of the heart a sojourn with ireland the author covering a range of topics settings and styles the book offers the first comprehensive study of short fiction from the first world war beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the canadian renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become canada s flagship genre it continues to attract the country s most accomplished and innovative writers today among them margaret atwood mavis gallant alice munro carol shields and many others yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the canadian short story this collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized canadian short stories from the genre s beginnings through the twentieth century a historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre s development in canada the us and great britain via representative examples completes it the collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of canadian literature for the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the canadian short story reingardm nischik is professor and chair of american literature at the university of constance germany
