the modern jew living in a world of shattered beliefs and competing ideologies is often confronted with questions of faith sacred fragments is for those who still care enough to continue the struggle in forthright nontechnical language the author addresses the most difficult theological questions of our time and shows that there are still viable jewish answers for even the greatest skeptics

even if in most countries non university higher education institutions did not have originally a research mandate it is well known that in most cases these institutions have progressively developed research activities and at least in some countries the state now has recognized the research role of these institutions and provided support and funding moreover in many countries the role of research in polytechnics fachhochschulen hogescholen university colleges etc is on the political agenda despite the importance of the issue there are very few in depth studies of research in the non university sector these studies show that the development of research in these institutions leads to quite complex interactions with universities both in the sense of convergence academic drift and or of differentiation of a specific research mandate oriented towards the regional economy therefore this book aims to fill this gap by first analysing a number of transversal issues related to the research mission of these institutions in its second part it gives an overview of the state of the art in eight european countries
