this book responds to the need to distinguish human creations from those produced by ai it does so by tracing human attributes of authorship and inventorship in statutory requirements for protection and ownership in european copyright and patent laws its main contribution lies in exposing shortcomings in how the laws are applied in the uk germany and france it shows that the human origin of creations is traditionally inferred from their expressive form or technical character given the advancements in ai such inferences are no longer legitimate what is more these shortcomings may eventually lead to granting copyright or patent protection where none is lawfully permitted or sufficiently justified to remedy the situation this book offers doctrinal and conceptual amendments and proposes law reforms to implement them this book guides authorities practitioners and students through the main arguments of the debate concerning copyright and patents for objects entirely or partly generated by ai it also makes original contributions to advance the ongoing academic and policy debates on ai and intellectual property law this book brings together experts from leading global institutions with diverse backgrounds and experiences for clinical perspectives on infectious endocarditis ie in all stages in the past this disease claimed lives within as little as 2 3 months advanced diagnostics pharmacological treatments and team based care have significantly improved patient outcomes yet there are very few resources available for physicians who need to work together to make this possible this book bridges this gap exploring medical and surgical treatments in a wider portion of the medical community the clinical presentation and management of patients with ie is the starting point for significant change in how physicians approach this problem infectious endocarditis is an excellent multidisciplinary resource for infectious disease specialists primary care physicians neurologists cardiologists radiology emergency medicine addiction medicine specialists surgeons and all others who may encounter this condition biblical scholars often read the bible with their own interpretive interests in mind without associating the bible with the concerns of laypeople this largely undermines the contributions laypeople can offer from reading the bible in their own contexts and from their own life experiences moreover such exclusively scholarly reading conceals the role of biblical texts in dealing with current social problems such as hiv aids related stigmatization hence the lack of lay participation in the process of bible reading makes the bible less visible in various common life situations in this volume elia shabani mligo draws on his fieldwork among people living with hiv aids plwha in tanzania selects stigmatization as his perspective and chooses participant centered contextual bible study as his method to argue that the reading of texts from the gospel of john by plwha given their lived experiences of stigmatization empowers them to reject stigmatization as unjust mligo s study shows that christian plwha reject stigmatization because it does not comply with the attitude of jesus toward stigmatized groups in his own time the theology emerging from the readings by stigmatized plwha through their evaluation of jesus attitudes and acts toward stigmatized people in the texts challenges churches in their obligatory mission as disciples of jesus churches are challenged to reconsider healing hospitality and caring prophetic voices against stigmatization and the way they teach about hiv and aids in relation to sexuality churches must revisit their practices toward stigmatized groups and listen to their voices mligo argues that participant centered bible study methods similar to the one used in this book whereby stigmatized people are the primary interlocutors in the process can be useful tools in listening to the voices of stigmatized groups
