dreaming the myth onwards explores the interplay between myth and jungian thought and practice demonstrating the philosophical and psychological principles that underlie our experience of psyche and world in this provocative work sophia heller challenges the assumption that we cannot be without myth that myth is necessary to vital soulful living indeed heller argues we have been living in a world without myth for a long time the absence of myth examines the loss of a religious mode of being in the world and demonstrates how theorists who insist on the presence of myth deny its historical end absence of myth may seem obvious evidenced by our lack of cult and ritual and by our de animated natural world as well as in the emergence of conceptual thought and psychological awareness which could only arise with the dissolution of a prereflective mythic mode of being in the world but what appears to be straightforward becomes complicated when myth is intentionally conflated with thought and reflection usually in the attempt to cultivate a mythic consciousness that aims to restore meaning to life and assuage the spiritual malaise of contemporary culture myth cannot rest in peace it must be continually unearthed redefined and recontextualized such that modern and postmodern notions of myth are made to substitute for something that has never been experienced only imagined the purpose of this collection of articles is to map out the gender ideologies found in finnish folklore and to raise questions about the processes behind their production interpretation and transformation several authors in this study examine the ways in which through cultural forms of expression and representation gender has been used in finland and in karelia to symbolically organise such categories as the human body human environment inside versus outside and this world versus other world includes the nature and function of myth discovering our own archetypes the stages of individual growth and creating rituals each chapter gives suggestions for group exercises and discussions joy mills has been a member of the theosophical society since 1940 she has served as president of the theosophical society in america general secretary of the australian section and international vice president she has lectured in more than 50 countries and worked as director of the krotona institute of theosophy in ojai california
