this book sheds light on environmental control in buildings from the 17th century onwards even before building services became a hallmark of buildings in order to address increasing sanitary and comfort needs pioneering experiences had contributed to improve design skills of professionals after long being determined by passive features indoor climate became influenced by installations and plants representing the most significant shift of paradigm in the modern age s construction history this change was not without consequences and the book presents contributions showing the deep connection between architectural design comfort requirements and environmental awareness throughout the 19th century taking into account the differences between different european countries the book is a valuable resource for architects designers and heritage professionals who are interested in environmental design enabling them to develop a deeper knowledge of heritage in order to address to climate demands particularly going towards a future in which energy savings and fuel consumption reduction will dictate our behaviour it includes contributions by leading international experts melanie bauernfeind marco cofani lino vittorio bozzetto emmanuelle gallo alberto grimoldi dean hawkes angelo giuseppe landi mattias legnér oriel prizeman and henrik schoenefeldt for several decades parent child cognitive interaction researchers have acknowledged that children learn cognitive skills in the context of their social and early environments these cognitive skills are often imparted to the children by parents or parenting others in formal or informal settings thus for example such informal settings as dinner table conversations walks through grocery stores museums or neighborhoods become rich laboratories for children to learn varied cognitive skills ranging from numeracy concepts and language the way in which those learning opportunities are provided by parents structured by parents and scaffolded by parents may well vary depending on culture and other socio demographic variables and may well vary depending on formal or informal settings the aim of this research topic is to bring together scholarship from both global north and global south contexts which explores how children learn via parental involvement in formal and informal settings publisher s note in this 2nd edition the following article has been added harris yr and longobardi c 2020 editorial how children learn from parents and parenting others in formal and informal settings international and cultural perspectives front psychol 11 1026 doi 10 3389/fpsyg 2020 01026 a deeper and richer look into the eight beatitudes of jesus recorded in matthew 5 these beatitudes grant us a view of genuine and lasting happiness the good life as one writer has said jesus understands the negatives of life but his concern is to cheer us and tell what real happiness is all about that is the approach of this study in defense of the eschaton is an anthology of william d dennison s essays on the reformed apologetics of cornelius van til written over the course of dennison s many years of study the chapters in this volume investigate van til s theory of knowledge revelation common grace antithesis christian education and the history of ideas as well as examine key scriptures to identify the redemptive historical structure of a biblical apologetic method in the end dennison finds that reformed apologetics must take eschatology seriously according to the new testament the believer has been transferred by faith in christ into the final stage of history as a citizen of heaven the christian apologist must defend the eschaton of the age to come against the satanic attacks of this present world how we interpret the god of this age in 2 corinthians 4 4 has significant implications for bible translations our doctrines of god and satan and missiology is this about god or satan dr ivor poobalan illuminates this unique pauline phrase through his comprehensive examination of the history of interpretation and careful exegesis rooted in the historical and literary contexts entering into centuries of debate this work challenges the two major pillars for the satan argument apocalypticism and ancient jewish views of satan to highlight the inconsistencies that make these foundations untenable this insightful work brings a fresh voice that returns readers to an interpretation that the god of this age is the sovereign god responding to jewish unbelief for biblical scholars translators theologians and pastors who is the god of this age makes accessible previously difficult sources and opens up the implications of this interpretation
