classical german philosophy has traditionally been understood as the period in the history of ideas in which the investigation of the human mind takes precedence over the investigation of the natural world this assessment has a twofold consequence on the one hand the philosophy of the period has been praised for its contributions to our understanding of multiple expressions of human rationality such as history art and religion on the other hand such a philosophy has been criticized for its obscure speculations alien to the standards of modern scientific cognition the philosophy of nature developed at the time has been accordingly dismissed as a piece of outdated metaphysics challenging this view the contributions collected in this book argue for the historical and contemporary relevance of the approaches to nature formulated at the time this book examines cold war relations between egypt and the united states the author argues that nasser s responses to security and political threats in the middle east and north africa conflicted with america s postwar strategy in those regions the author focuses on how the failure of american egyptian diplomacy endangered the postwar petroleum order and facilitated the outbreak of the six day war this book presents a varied and critical picture of how the arab spring demands a re examination and re conceptualization of issues of transitional justice it demonstrates how unique features of this wave of revolutions and popular protests that have swept the arab world since december 2010 give rise to distinctive concerns and problems relative to transitional justice the contributors explore how these issues in turn add fresh perspective and nuance to the field more generally in so doing it explores fundamental questions of social justice reconstruction and healing in the context of the arab spring including the perspectives of academics and practitioners transitional justice and the arab spring will be of considerable interest to those working on the politics of the middle east normative political theory transitional justice international law international relations and human rights
