based on interviews with entrepreneurs professionals and regional party cadres from a range of age groups this book argues that western class categories do not directly apply to china and that the chinese new middle class is distinguished more by socio cultural than by economic factors

this book critically examines the new middle class and the emergence of neo urban spaces in india within the context of rapid urbanisation and changing socio spatial dynamics in urban areas in the country it looks at class as a socio spatial category where class distinction is tied to and manifests itself through the space of the city with a detailed ethnographic study of the national capital region of delhi especially gurugram it explores themes such as class subjectivity morality and social beliefs life inside gated enclaves family and everyday practices of class reproduction and the process of othering and exclusivity among others class identity vulnerability and hierarchy influence the actions and motivations of the middle class the author studies the nuances and socio political fractures stemming from the complex dynamic of class caste religion and gender that manifest in these neo urban spaces and how these shape the city and community rich in empirical resources this book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of sociology political sociology ethnography urban sociology urban studies and south asian studies
