this volume presents for the first time in english the approaches to leo strauss being pursued by european scholars in spain italy and germany whereas the traditions of strauss interpretation have until recently focused on issues of interest to political science and to a lesser extent religious studies this collection makes a powerful contribution to the recent philosophical consideration of strauss each essay treats a unique thread emerging from the tapestry of straussian thought illustrating strauss s thinking on the reading of ancient texts and on the relationship between philosophy and politics in doing so strauss is placed squarely and uncompromisingly within the history of philosophy in conversation with a large range of philosophical figures eric voegelin s political readings fills a critical void by providing an original approach to studying the work of eric voegelin one of the major political philosophers of the twenty first century across six chapters experts guide the reader from classical to modern times presenting six political philosophers who have had an impact on the life and philosophical production of eric voegelin philosophers examined include plato aristotle saint augustine hobbes weber and kelsen through this innovative structure the chapters collectively illustrate how voegelin was an exceptional thinker through his engagement with political philosophers both modern and antique the plurality of unique academic perspectives and voices enriches our understanding of voegelin s own thought while also encouraging a re think of ancient and modern thinkers and the transformation and continuity between these designed for students and scholars alike eric voegelin s political readings will appeal to all those with an interest in voegelin as well as readers familiar with classical and modern political philosophers thinking childhood and time contemporary perspectives on the politics of education is an interdisciplinary exploration of the notion of childhood and its place in a philosophical education contributors consider children s experiences of time space embodiment and thinking by acknowledging hannah arendt s notion that every child brings a new beginning into the world they address the question of how educators can be more responsive to the otherness that childhood offers while assuming that most educational models follow either a chronological model of child development or view children as human beings that are lacking the contributors explore childhood as a philosophical concept in children adults and even beyond human beings childhood as a forgotten dimension of the world contributors also argue that a pedagogy that does not aim for an exodus of childhood but rather responds to the arrival of a new human being responsibly dialogically fosters a deeper appreciation of the newness that children bring in order to sensitize us for our own childhood as adults as well and allow us to welcome other forms of childhood in the world as a whole this book argues that the experience of natality such as the beginning of life is not chronologically determined but rather can occur more than once in a human life and beyond scholars of philosophy education psychology and childhood studies will find this book particularly useful
