he current political climate of confrontation between islamist regimes and western governments has resulted in the proliferation of essentialist perceptions of iran and iranians in the west such perceptions do not reflect the complex evolution of iranian identity that occurred in the years following the constitutional revolution 1906 11 and the anti imperialist islamic revolution of 1979 despite the iranian government s determined pursuance of anti western policies and strict conformity to religious principles the film and literature of iran reflect the clash between a nostalgic pride in persian tradition and an apparent infatuation with a more eurocentric modernity in familiar and foreign mannani and thompson set out to explore the tensions surrounding the ongoing formulation of iranian identity by bringing together essays on poetry novels memoir and films these include both canonical and less widely theorized texts as well as works of literature written in english by authors living in diaspora challenging neocolonialist stereotypes these critical excursions into iranian literature and film reveal the limitations of collective identity as it has been configured within and outside of iran through the examination of works by among others the iconic female poet forugh farrokhzad the expatriate author goli taraqqi the controversial memoirist azar nafisi and the graphic novelist marjane satrapi author of persepolis this volume engages with the complex and contested discourses of religion patriarchy and politics that are the contemporary product of iran s long and revolutionary history the fascinating continuation of the best selling persepolis one of the freshest and most original memoirs of our day los angeles times marjane satrapi dazzles with her heartrending graphic memoir about growing up in iran during the islamic revolution in 1984 marjane flees fundamentalism and the war with iraq to begin a new life in vienna once there she faces the trials of adolescence far from her friends and family and while she soon carves out a place for herself among a group of fellow outsiders she continues to struggle for a sense of belonging finding that she misses her home more than she can stand marjane returns to iran after graduation her difficult homecoming forces her to confront the changes both she and her country have undergone in her absence and her shame at what she perceives as her failure in austria marjane allows her past to weigh heavily on her until she finds some like minded friends falls in love and begins studying art at a university however the repression and state sanctioned chauvinism eventually lead her to question whether she can have a future in iran as funny and poignant as its predecessor persepolis 2 is another clear eyed and searing condemnation of the human cost of fundamentalism in its depiction of the struggles of growing up here compounded by marjane s status as an outsider both abroad and at home it is raw honest and incredibly illuminating funny and heartbreaking this eagerly awaited sequel to satrapi s memoir in comic strips persepolis about her iranian adolescence and about the life of her entire nation continues with the same dazzling combination of singular artistry insight and storytelling as her first book
