the short stories and novellas are among my earliest science fiction works writing in alaska in 1987 i made a couple of trips to europe while enrolled in an english writing course at the university of alaska at juneau most of these stories were written at or at least mention wrangell a small town 150 miles to the south of the state capitol at juneau 140 000 words shows how and why philosophy is the most important and most practical of all human endeavors because its mission is to sit in judgment of everything including itself this book has two purposes one philosophical the other polemical the philosophical purpose will reveal itself plainly in due course but the polemical purpose is sometimes implicit between the lines as it were the target of the polemic is religionism religionists are those who are so bound up in whatever they believe that they will not change their minds about these beliefs even when presented with the most compelling evidence facts or even deductive proof against these beliefs religionists believe that their very identity their very being or what some of them call their immortal soul is inseparable from and embodied in their beliefs to the extent that if these beliefs are ever undermined then they themselves will be psychologically or spiritually destroyed or at least lose their integrity insofar as the typical pigheadedness of religionists stifles civilization creates unnecessary conflict negates logic and countermands reason an important goal of humanity should be to make the world safe from religionism let me state clearly from the outset that my anti religionism is not atheism i am a philosophical theist in the tradition of hegel i shall argue below that atheism is nonsense and that it is in effect a religion the book starts with the assumption that vagueness is a fundamental property of this world from a philosophical account of vagueness via the presentation of alternative mathematics of vagueness the subsequent chapters explore how vagueness manifests itself in the various exact sciences physics chemistry biology medicine computer science and engineering it has been rightly said that only a true philosopher may give a practical shape to education philosophy and education go hand in hand education depends on philosophy for its guidance while philosophy depends on education for its own formulation teaching methods are very much concerned with the philosophy of education the teacher holds the philosophical systems of education govern the teacher's attitude to the method of teaching with a view to comprehend the close relationship of philosophy and education and their great significance in the modern times the present book philosophy of education has been written the book aims at presenting the western isms of philosophy as well as indian philosophy of education beginning from the vedas to the contemporary philosophies it elucidates the philosophical issues and attempts to draw the philosophical implications of every isms invaluable viewpoints on education of eminent educators like rousseau russell swami dayanand annie besant m k gandhi rabindranath tagore and many others and the influence of their philosophies have been studied in depth it acquaints the readers with the varied aims and ideals of education methods and principles of teaching role and influence of teachers as propounded by the great philosophers written in a simple language and lucid style the book is expected to serve as an ideal textbook on the subject it will prove indispensable for the students and teachers of education question bank at the end of the book is an added advantage provided to the students which would prove helpful in preparation for examination even the general readers will find this book worth reading matthias smalbrugge compares modern images to plays without a script while they appear to refer to a deeper identity or reality it is ultimately the image itself that truly matters he argues that our modern society of images is the product of a destructive tendency in the christian notion of the image in general and augustine of hippo's in particular this insight enables him to decode our current scripts of image as we live in an increasingly visual culture we are constantly confronted with images that seem to exist without a deeper identity or reality but did this referential character really get lost over time smalbrugge first explores the roots of the modern image by analysing imagery what it represents and its moral state within the framework of platonic philosophy he then moves to the augustinian heritage in particular the soliloquies the confessions and the trinity where he finds valuable insights into images and memory he explores within the trinitarian framework the crossroads of a theology of grace and a theology based on neoplatonic views smalbrugge ultimately answers two questions what happened to the referential character of the image and can it be recovered
