building on fossungu s earlier works and essentially providing africa with original critical and multi level analyses of the trio of globalization democracy and national determination this book theorizes that african states have to unite in order to have any impact in the global economy using the failure of the cameroon goodwill association of montreal cgam as a case study the book urges africans to make hard choices and avoid politickerization and midnight politics in favour of fossungupalogy that is the science of straightforwardness necessitating the fearless looking at truth straight in the eye the questions of the book are many but do all boil down to whether or not africans fear the truth and do not therefore do politics it is amazing that africans in the west live in societies where fierce political competitors do embrace each other after one has defeated the other but they are incapable of looking their so called friends in the eye and saying for example man i think you ve totally gotten it wrong this time such comportment defines politickerization or negative competition while attempting some possible responses to the numerous queries it raises this book basically proffers the science of four eyesism as a discipline that all african schools need to institute and make a compulsory subject if the vandalized continent would have to be awakened to its realities this book is rich in fossungu s dazzling capacity to invent define and use a multitude of new terminological constructs informed by african experiences many non indian readers find the historical and cultural references in salman rushdie s midnight s children demanding in his close reading of the novel neil ten kortenaar offers post colonial literary strategies for understanding midnight s children that also challenge some of the prevailing interpretations of the novel using hybridity mimicry national allegory and cosmopolitanism all key critical concepts of postcolonial theory ten kortenaar reads midnight s children as an allegory of history as a bildungsroman and psychological study of a burgeoning national consciousness and as a representation of the nation he shows that the hybridity of rushdie s fictional india is not created by different elements forming a whole but by the relationship among them self nation text in salman rushdie s midnight s children also makes an original argument about how nation states are imagined and how national consciousness is formed in the citizen the protagonist saleem sinai heroically identifies himself with the state but this identification is beaten out of him until in the end he sees himself as the common man at the mercy of the state ten kortenaar reveals rushdie s india to be more self conscious than many communal identities based on language it is an india haunted by a dark twin called pakistan a nation in the way england is a nation but imagined against england mistrusting the openness of tagore s hindu india it is both cosmopolitan and a specific subjective location
