this series seeks to put basic tools for understanding politics in the hands of the student by presenting a variety of approaches to the study of political institutions ideals and behavior it hopes to enlarge his awareness of our common problems increase his ability to define and analyze them and perhaps to enhance his capacity to meet and master them publisher

this book considers the evolving relationship between china and the international system and the interaction between a china of profound change in its identity capability and influence and an international system that is itself experiencing a process of far reaching transformation it develops an analytical framework that allows us to capture understand and explain a more dynamic pattern of agent structure interaction in china s relationship with the international system by demonstrating a more dynamic and mutually constitutive relationship between china and the international system the book explores the extent to which both transform themselves in the process and provides a fuller and more effective assessment of the evolving nature of the relationship in doing so it addresses key issues in the current literature on the relationship of china and the international system and helps close the gap in our knowledge of the conditions and consequences of change and stability in the international system as a result of the change in distributions of power capability and influence among nation states small states in the international system addresses the little understood foreign policy choices of small states it outlines a theoretical perspective of small states that starts from the assumption that small states are not just large states writ small in essence small states behave differently from larger and more powerful states as such this book compares three theories of foreign policy choice realism and its emphasis on structural factors domestic factors and social constructivism emphasizing norms and identity across seven focused case studies from around the world in the 20th century through an examination of the foreign policy choices of switzerland ireland finland norway the netherlands belgium ethiopia somalia vietnam bolivia and paraguay this book concludes that realist theories built on great power politics cannot adequately explain small state behavior in most instances when small states are threatened by larger belligerent states the small state behaves along the predictions of social constructivist theory when small states threaten each other they behave along realist predictions unlike most texts on the international system which stress continuities this volume focuses on changes what has caused them where they will stop and perhaps most important where they will take us designed to initiate and structure inquiry into the dynamics of international change the book is organized to reflect three main dimensions of sys
