james martin one of the world's most widely respected authorities on the impact of technology on society argues that we are living at a turning point in human history we are travelling at breakneck speed into an era of extremes extremes of wealth and poverty extremes in technology extremes in globalization if we are to survive we must learn how to manage them all although we face huge challenges and conflicts martin argues that it is in the scientific breakthroughs of the new century that we will find new hope in a clear penetrating and insightful style he addresses the key questions of our age and proposes an interconnected set of solutions to its problems bilateral investment treaties bits signed prior to the 21st century are problematic some countries with bits signed during this period have since reviewed those bits and taken action to address the disadvantages the bits held for the host nation or have either resorted to eradicating some of their bits in particular developing countries that signed bits with developed nations seem to be disproportionately disadvantaged in these agreements this research highlights kenya's current bit situation and compares it in light of another developing country south africa with regards to its bit experience given that south africa has undergone an extensive bit review process and moves to change some of these bits this study compares and contrasts the kenyan and south african experience the study highlights the possible lessons that could be learnt from the south african bit review experience and provides recommendations for the kenyan government regarding its outdated bits the lessons and recommendations benefit not only kenya but also other countries that are still to review their bits as it adds to the literature on why it is important for countries with such bits to revisit them and how they can go about the review mechanism best in addition the study is also significant as far as it raises awareness of the use and effects of bits thereby enabling countries that enter into such agreements to make informed decisions the national immunization system has achieved high levels of immunization particularly for children however this system faces difficult challenges for the future significant disparities remain in assuring access to recommended vaccines across geographic and demographic populations these disparities result in part from fragmented public⁵ private financing in which a large number of children and adults face limited access to immunization services access for adults lags well behind that of children and rates of immunizations for those who are especially vulnerable because of chronic health conditions such as diabetes or heart and lung disease remain low financing vaccines in the 21st century assuring access and availability addresses these challenges by proposing new strategies for assuring access to vaccines and sustaining the supply of current and future vaccines the book recommends changes to the advisory committee on immunization practices acip the entity that currently recommends vaccines and calls for a series of public meetings a post implementation evaluation study and development of a research agenda to facilitate implementation of the plan
