daniel brown believers churches ought to flow like a river not sit motionless like a lake a veteran pastor brown knows that river churches are alive dynamic gaining momentum changing courses he also knows the power such churches can have to change lives in the other side of pastoral ministry he shows what makes a river church flow and invites pastors and church leaders to follow ten key currents that can move their people to new places of faith and service brown reveals the crucial dynamics of building authority defining and communicating vision strengthening systems coaxing changes empowering people for ministry adjusting church culture positioning and unleashing resources maintaining identity understanding the times evaluating results if you re ready for a church whose focus is on involvement not attendance on what happened to the people who showed up not how many showed up then this insightful anecdote filled book will provide you with practical suggestions and thought patterns to move into the flow of the river in this book we will examine those who possess a pastoral grace and endowment those possessing a pastoral anointing are referred to as pastoral people they have a passion for christ and the church in addition we will consider how god s perfects the pastoral person for service in the church god set ministries within the church namely the pastor and the teacher for its continuance these ministries are important for the equipping and maturing of the saints in the pages of this study we will discuss the ministries of the pastor and of the teacher in detail

owen here declares himself to be in sentiment a presbyterian in opposition to prelacy and independency he afterwards changed his views on church government but in the work on schism to which we have just referred he declares that on the subjects under discussion in this treatise his principles had undergone no essential change when i compare what i then wrote with my present judgment i am scarce able to find the least difference between the one and the other more and more pulpits are occupied by motivational speakers rather than preachers church congregations are not being given a comprehensive biblical understanding of the faith drawing on his own experience as a pastor in zambia conrad mbewe tackles issues such as the content of pastoral preaching how pastoral preaching relates to church life finding the time to prepare pastoral sermons and dealing with discouragement throughout the book it is clear that the author s conviction is to see preachers grow strong churches to build a people for god if the church and the sheep that attend is more than a social club and if eternal destinies such as pastors and preachers male and female being in the balance then we as church leaders need to evaluate and improve and show the sheep a sermon before they hear one and the only way we can effectively do that is knowing pastors are people
