answer set programming asp is a declarative language tailored towards solving combinatorial optimization problems it has been successfully applied to e.g. planning problems configuration and verification of software diagnosis and database repairs however asp is not directly suitable for modeling problems with continuous domains such problems occur naturally in diverse fields such as the design of gas and electricity networks computer vision and investment portfolios to overcome this problem we study fasp a combination of asp with fuzzy logic a class of manyvalued logics that can handle continuity we specifically focus on the following issues 1 an important question when modeling continuous optimization problems is how we should handle overconstrained problems i.e. problems that have no solutions in many cases we can opt to accept an imperfect solution i.e. a solution that does not satisfy all the stated rules constraints however this leads to the question what imperfect solutions should we choose we investigate this question and improve upon the state of the art by proposing an approach based on aggregation functions 2 users of a programming language often want a rich language that is easy to model in however implementers and theoreticians prefer a small language that is easy to implement and reason about we create a bridge between these two desires by proposing a small core language for fasp and by showing that this language is capable of expressing many of its common extensions such as constraints monotonically decreasing functions aggregators s-implicators and classical negation 3 a well known technique for solving asp consists of translating a program p to a propositional theory whose models exactly correspond to the answer sets of p we show how this technique can be generalized to fasp paving the way to implement efficient fuzzy answer set solvers that can take advantage of existing fuzzy reasoners neurocritical care board review questions and answers provides clinicians with a thorough review of the complex subspecialty of neurocritical care using a question and answer q/a format the q/a format is easily readable high yield and serves as good practice for test takers or anyone looking to improve or reinforce essential knowledge the book covers the key topics pertinent to and found on neurocritical care boards and is organized according to the exam core curriculum outline a total of 649 questions address both neuroscience critical care general neurology neurotrauma neurovascular and neurosurgical problems and general critical care topics systems trauma cardiovascular infectious disease pulmonary and renal issues and hemodynamic monitoring detailed explanations follow in the answer section of each chapter along with references for further study where relevant neuroimaging eeg and monitoring waveforms and other images are included in case questions to allow candidates to familiarize themselves with these tools that form a significant part of the exam features of neurocritical care board review include comprehensive high yield review that covers all areas tested on the neurocritical care certifying exam applicability to a wide range of physicians in multiple specialties reviewing for boards or looking to test skills and clinical acumen in this challenging area question and answer format with detailed explanations and references to facilitate recall of must know information and help identify knowledge gaps for further attention material aggregated from multiple specialties into a singular resource for exam study
