charles peirce the founder of pragmatism was a thinker of extraordinary depth and range he wrote on philosophy mathematics psychology physics logic phenomenology semiotics religion and ethics but his writings are difficult and fragmentary this book provides a clear and comprehensive explanation of peirce s thought his philosophy is presented as a systematic response to nominalism the philosophy which he most despised and which he regarded as the underpinning of the dominant philosophical worldview of his time the book explains peirce s challenge to nominalism as a theory of meaning and shows its implications for his views of knowledge truth the nature of reality and ethics it will be essential reading both for peirce scholars and for those new to his work australian education policy for the past 40 years has been heading in the wrong direction and is entirely unsuitable for preparing young people for the 21st century exaggeration sadly not for a teacher there is nothing more exhilarating than encouraging young people to realise the power of learning but in our schools today teachers spend so much time preparing their students for high stakes tests gathering data and filling in forms that many of them feel like the life has been squeezed out of their role schooling has been turned into a market and school leaders are forced to spend precious time and resources competing with other schools their professional experience is disregarded as policy makers turn to the corporate world and self appointed commentators to determine curriculum and school funding the outcome our schooling system is becoming more segregated children from poorer backgrounds are falling behind public schools are starved of funds and good teachers are leaving one of the most highly regarded educational leaders in australia alan reid argues it s time to reconsider the purposes of education the capacities we need for the future and the strategies that will get us there he outlines a new narrative for australian schooling that is futures focused and prizes flexibility adaptability collaboration and agility with students teachers and school communities at centre stage a provocative and persuasive argument for the necessity of a new narrative for australian schooling so as to meet better the demonstrable demands of the twenty first century emeritus professor bob lingard the university of queensland at the heart of the book is a penetrating critique of neoliberalism and the damaging effects it is having on education and society it should be essential reading for policy makers educators parents and anyone interested in the current state of australian education professor barry down murdoch university
