vols for 1828 1934 contain the proceedings at large of the american board of commissioners for foreign missions

there is surely something of natural magic in that the wilder capacity of the mountains is brought out especially in a weird story of a haunted girl an episode well illustrating the writer's more imaginative psychological power for in spite of its quiet general tenor the book has its adroitly managed elements of sensation witness the ghost in which the average human susceptibility to supernatural terrors takes revenge on the sceptical Mr. Wendover and the love scene with Madame de Nettemville which like those other exciting passages really furthers the development of the proper ethical interests of the book
