the relations between conversation analysis ca sociology and social theory are complex often ambiguous and have sometimes been rather fraught while there might be some relatively high level of agreement amongst their practitioners on what ca is what it does and what it is meant to achieve that is not so much the case for the more open and broad terrains of sociology and social theory moreover each of the domains in question has changed in orientation composition and academic location since ca first came into existence in the late 1960s while initially a child of sociology as ca has matured and extended its substantive and methodological reach it has become a large intellectual domain in its own right with inputs from and relevance for a host of other disciplines notably linguistics anthropology and psychology it is now no longer at all clear how ca relates to sociology and social theory what each side currently does or what it could bring to the other in the future in conversations with erica jong one of the most popular and controversial of contemporary writers has her say she was already an established poet when she published fear of flying 1973 but the novel's sensational reception came to overshadow all her work in interviews from 1973 to 2001 jong relates the extra ordinary experience she gained as a pioneer of sexual writing from a female point of view with equal attention to the art of fiction and poetry she yields her views on the literary scene and on the place of poetry in american society among the highlights of the book is jong's account of the publication of fear of flying and its remarkable best seller rise cast into the role of spokesperson for feminism in the seventies she has continued to represent her generation of women in several conversations she talks about the tensions within feminism over the decades jong's fame has been deeply branded by the notoriety associated with sex she speaks for all women writers who have addressed sexual topics and who have suffered retaliation she tells the story of the struggle to keep writing honestly when the public's perception of one's work has made one a target she describes the difficulty of escaping categories created by the media and the critical community and the frustration of living in the shadow of one notorious best seller in Jong's writing humor is a constant and one of the pleasures of reading these conversations is her abundant wit conversations with Erica Jong reveals the writer to be funny articulate and passionately committed to her art Charlotte Templin is the author of Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation the example of Erica Jong her work has appeared in American Studies the Missouri Review and Centennial Review

Hearts in Harmony is an exquisite anthology that orchestrates a symphony of love stories celebrating the profound beauty found when two unique souls learn to beat as one this collection showcases the journey of Elara a captivating protagonist who in various guises encounters partners whose contrasting natures ultimately complete her creating a harmonious blend that transcends individual differences the book opens with Elara a meticulously ordered concert violinist colliding with Caspian a chaotic and passionate sculptor their initial discord a jarring interruption in Elara's life slowly transforms into a captivating improvisation proving that true love thrives in the unexpected further stories unveil Elara's encounters in different realms such as her role as a weaver in the mystical whispering woods where she and Ronan a bard face external forces threatening to sow mistrust through their combined talents his music and her resilience in weaving they calm the tempestuous forest demonstrating that even the fiercest challenges can be overcome by the unwavering strength of shared triumph each narrative within this collection emphasizes that love is not about erasing individual traits but about embracing them finding the rhythm where distinct melodies intertwine to create a magnificent composition Hearts in Harmony is a testament to the idea that the richest connections are often forged from disparate elements resulting in a love that is both dynamic and enduring a beautifully orchestrated blend of passion understanding and unwavering unity

These core conversations between Peter Stanlis and Robert Frost occurred during 1939-1941 they are written in the much larger context of nearly a quarter century of friendship that ended only with the passing of Frost in 1963 these discussions provide a unique window of opportunity to appreciate the sources of Frost's philosophical visions as well as his poetic interests the discussions between Stanlis and Frost were held between six consecutive summers 1939

1944 when stanlis was a student at the bread loaf graduate school of english these were augmented by additional exchanges at bread loaf in 1961 1962 these conversations provide original insights on important subjects common to both men frost insisted that it was impossible to make a complete or final unity out of the conflicts between spirit and matter ordinary empirical experience and rational discursive reason and logic could not harmonize basic conflicts he held that the best method to ameliorate apparent contradictions in dualistic conflicts was through the play of metaphorical thinking and feeling metaphors included parables allegories fables images symbols irony and the forms and techniques of poetry such as rhyme rhythm assonance dissonance personifications and connotations these are the arsenal from which poets draw their insightful metaphors but such metaphors are also the common property of every normal person a poem is a momentary stay against confusion a form of revelation for a clarification of life but not a final absolute answer to the mysteries and complexities in man s life on earth so too at their best are science religion philosophy education politics and scholarship as a means of ameliorating human problems this work explains the origins of the familiar and the unfamiliar in everyday speech and literature including the colloquial and the proverbial it embraces archaeology history religion the arts science mythology and characters from fiction
