w h auden and hannah arendt belonged to a generation that experienced the catastrophic events of the mid twentieth century and they both sought to respond to the enormity of the novel phenomena they witnessed regions of sorrow explores the remarkable affinity between their works as incisive exponents and uncompromising proponents of the insuperable condition of plurality auden and arendt give voice to an unexpected and inconspicuous messianism a messianism in which contingency frailty and faultiness are neither rejected nor scorned but celebrated as the indispensable elements of what auden calls anxious hope beginning with an examination of arendt s origins of totalitarianism and auden s age of anxiety which both conclude with meditations on nazi terror the author turns to an unprecedented presentation of arendt s human condition in terms of jewish german messianism and concludes with auden s in praise of limestone which lays out the frail and faulty space in which messianism breaks free from apocalyptic forecasts in this book novenson gives a revisionist account of messianism in antiquity he shows that for the ancient jews and christians who used the term a messiah was not an article of faith but a manner of speaking a scriptural figure of speech useful for thinking kinds of political order the relationship of philosophy with kafka s oeuvre is complex it has been argued that kafka s novels and stories defy philosophic extrapolation conversely it has also been suggested that precisely the tendency of kafka s writings to elude discursive solution is itself a philosophical tendency one that is somehow contributing to a wiser relationship of human beings with language these matters are the focus of the proposed volume on philosophy and kafka the proposed collection brings together essays that interrogate the relationship of philosophy and kafka and offer new and original interpretations the volume obviously cannot claim completeness but it partially does justice to the multiplicity of philosophical issues and philosophical interpretations at stake this variety informs the composition of the volume itself a number of essays focus on specific philosophical commentaries on kafka s work from adorno s to agamben s from arendt s to benjamin s from deleuze and guattari s to derrida s a number of essays consider the possible relevance of certain philosophical outlooks for examining kafka s writings here kafka s name goes alongside those of socrates kant kierkegaard nietzsche wittgenstein buber heidegger blanchot and levinas finally a number of essays consider kafka s writings in terms of a specific philosophical theme such as communication and subjectivity language and meaning knowledge and truth the human animal divide justice and freedom in all contributions to the volume such themes motifs and interpretations arise to varying degrees all essays are concerned with the relationship of literature and philosophy and thus with the philosophical significance of kafka s writings this book provides a critical assessment of benjamin s writings on franz kafka and of benjamin s related writings eliciting from benjamin s writings a conception of philosophy that is political in its dissociation from its becoming renegade in relation to its philosophic shame about established laws norms and forms the book compares benjamin s writings with relevant works by agamben heidegger levinas and others in relating benjamin s writings on kafka to benjamin s writings on politics the study delineates a philosophic impetus in literature and argues that this impetus has potential political consequences finally the book is critical of benjamin s messianism insofar as it is oriented by the anticipated elimination of exceptions and distractions exceptions and distractions are the book argues precisely what literature like other arts brings to the fore hence the philosophic and the political importance of literature about the book for the website begun as a scholarly work of religious and psychiatric import 9 11 and its aftershocks has turned this work on messianism to the task of survival of our civilization for the core motivations of widely disparate people islamic terrorists israeli settlers and american fundamentalists are frankly messianic and they are positioned to move the world towards a disaster long depicted in apocalyptic terms on the plains of abraham but now also present in our midst a degree of self sacrifice is present in messianism ranging from the purely spiritual to full expression in the islamic terrorist who glories in a physical immolation that leads to eternal life the crucial issue for the rest of us lies in its imperative nature calling for the termination of our lives can we reach such people who live in these other spiritual worlds and who threaten to evict us from ours they live in the certitude and rectitude of their cause and are intolerant of the ambiguity of modern civilization their certitude lies in a strangely similar belief in a messenger of god who brings tidings of the end of days on earth and a coming glory in a heavenly company populated by god and the principal figures of their religion each of these religions has its own visionary man of god or messiah extant or to come my thesis is that the key to reaching such imbued people so alienated from the rest of us is through utilization of the little we know of reaching alienated individuals and groups that knowledge has been chiefly developed in asylums by the original alienists psychiatrists also the social and political sciences and the pastoral discipline the messianic imperative scourge or savior is offered as a contribution to that study more so it is offered as a journey into unfamiliar terrain it may hopefully lead to a manual for action on the part of people worldwide alert to the current danger who wish to contribute to the world family aborning in these parlous times irreplaceable as a reference to where catholic theology is at any given moment concilium maps the state of the most pressing questions with solid contributions from leading theologians and cutting edge voices each volume addresses major issues in dialogue with wider public discourses regularly engaging perspectives from the religions of the world for volumes of substance breadth and insight concilium provides a most impressive response to the most important issues in theology today jeannine hill fletcher fordham university the messianic reduction is the first study of benjamin s early philosophy that takes into consideration the full range of his work with particular emphasis on its complex relation to phenomenology kant and neo kantianism and certain developments in mathematics people often overlook the uncanny nature of homecomings writing off the experience of finding oneself at home in a strange place or realizing that places from our past have grown strange this book challenges our assumptions about the value of home arguing for the ethical value of our feeling displaced and homeless in the 21st century home is explored in places ranging from digital keyboards to literary texts and investigates how we mediate our homecomings aesthetically through cultural artifacts art movies television shows and conceptual structures philosophy theology ethics narratives in questioning the place of home in human lives and the struggles involved with defining defending naming and returning to homes the volume collects and extends ideas about home and homecomings that will inform traditional problems in novel ways this is a book about revolutionary movements of a messianic and millenarian character led by a mahdi in islamic terms a charismatic messianic leader it also addresses the question of mediation between god and men and the political repercussions of this question in the history of the pre modern muslim west mahdism is considered in relation to sufi ideas terminology and symbols which shape notions of authority and of legitimate power when claiming direct intimate contact between the holy and the divine the relationship between mahdism and the legitimacy of power the process by which the messianic paradigm becomes inseparable from the claim to the caliphate are amply discussed the contents of the book range from the times of the muslim conquest of north africa and iberia to the first part of the xviith century with the end of muslim iberia and the beginnings of european intervention in morocco this is the first book that provides access to twelve continental philosophers and the consequences of their thinking for the philosophy of religion basically in the second half of the twentieth century it has been treated from within the anglo american school of philosophy which deals mainly with proofs and truths and questions of faith this approach is more concerned with human experience and pays more attention to historical context and cultural influences as such it provides challenging questions about the way forward for philosophy of religion in the twenty first century at the beginning of the twentieth century the tropes of messianism apocalypse and redemption which had been so central to the west's religious formation seemed spent forces in germany nietzsche had pronounced god as dead and theology seemed to be travelling the same secular route as philosophy but world war i changed that this book introduces some of germany's key thinkers in theology philosophy literature and social and political thought through their engagement with these previously discarded concepts they initiated a new and urgent dialogue between philosophy and theology this imaginative and innovative collection brings together essays by established scholars on messianism redemption and apocalypse in twentieth century german thought major theologians such as barth buber bonhoeffer rahner pannenberg and moltmann are discussed alongside leading intellectuals such as adorno benjamin bloch heidegger and rosenzweig literary figures such as kafka and george are also included the interfaces imply a different way of reading theology and challenge the reader to think what the implications of immanence in a specific philosophical culture are for the theological project some of the essays introduce thinkers who are little known to english speaking readers others cast new light on more familiar figures the collection as a whole contextualises german religious and philosophical thought on these crucial topics in very useful ways the dialogue at work in these pages is a very important one and should be carried further in the messiah leading scholars offer succinct and illuminating essays on currents of messianic thought in the formative centuries of judaism and christianity special features designed with the student in mind include a map a glossary of terms and a timeline of significant events book jacket
