since the advent of post structuralism various authors have problematized the modern conception of autobiography by questioning the status of authorship and interrogating the relation between language and reality yet even after making autobiography into a theoretical problem many of these authors ended up writing about themselves this paradox stands at the center of this wide ranging study of the form and function of autobiography in the work of authors who have distanced themselves from its modern instantiation discussing roland barthes jacques derrida hélène cixous and others this book grapples with the question of what it means to write the self when the self is understood as an effect of writing combining close reading intellectual history and literary theory the autobiography effect traces how precisely its theoretically problematic nature made autobiography into a central scene for the negotiation of philosophical positions and anxieties after structuralism the optic of the state traces the production of nationalist imaginaries through the public visual representation of modern state formation in brazil and argentina as jens andermann reveals the foundational visions of national heritage territory and social and ethnic composition were conceived and implemented but also disputed and contested in a complex interplay between government cultural and scientific institutions and actors as a means of propagating political agendas and power throughout the emerging states the purpose of these imaginaries was to vindicate the political upheavals of the recent past and secure the viability of the newly independent states through a sense of historic destiny and inevitable evolution the careful presentation of artifacts and spectacles was also aimed abroad in order to win the favor of european imperial powers and thereby acquire a competitive place in the nascent global economy of the late nineteenth century the optic of the state offers a fascinating critique of the visual aspects of national mythology it exposes how scientific and cultural institutions inscribed the state form in time and space thus presenting historical processes as natural givens
