an all in one volume sharing the history practice and viewpoints of confirmation in the episcopal church and the first book on the subject for at least 15 years resolutions regarding confirmation are coming to the 2015 general convention includes questions for reflection and study by individuals and groups many clergy and educators would say that the rite of confirmation in the episcopal church today is a sacrament in search of a meaning some believe confirmation is an essential rite of passage for adult leadership in the governance of the church some believe it is a rite that no longer has a place in the life of the church understanding the importance that baptism now holds in the 1979 book of common prayer s ecclesiology following a history of how the rite of confirmation came about and its implications for youth and adults in the church today voices in the episcopal church bishops liturgical scholars confirmation leaders and youth themselves offer fresh viewpoints here in a conversational format to engage the reader challenges the tired orthodoxy that the church of england had a bad first world war in telling the story of the church and its people in colchester a garrison town robert beaken enlivens our understanding of the first world war not only as a clash of mighty forces but also at a personal and communal level the very rev dr john hall dean of westminster the church of england is popularly believed to have had a bad first world war this book challenges that tired orthodoxy it examines the relationship between parish churches and the army during the war using the important garrison town of colchester as a case study colchester in 1914 18 was a microcosm both of english society and of the church of england in all their diversity the presence of the army also meant that wartime experiences and trends which were noticeable elsewhere in england were sharply felt in colchester for the generation of britons who lived through the great war christianity was an important part of their culture world view and in many instances personal lives to understand life on the home front during the war it is vital to understand the part played by christianity and particularly by the parishes of the church of england with the help of newly discovered archival material this book reassesses the relations between clergy soldiers and civilians to show that contrary to widely held belief the clergy and their parishioners responded to the crisis of 1914 18 with courage common sense and self sacrifice their ministry kept much of the population going during the great war robert beaken is parish priest of st mary the virgin great bardfield and st katharine little bardfield in essex he holds a phd from king s college london and is a fellow of the royal historical society he is the author of seven works including cosmo lang archbishop in war and crisis 2012 this second volume begins with the dawn of the eighteenth century and relates how the congregation of the mission founded by st vincent de paul worked to remain faithful to his vision while adapting itself to the demands of ecclesiastical and political life in france italy poland spain and portugal overseas missions in north africa and the mascarenes as well as the missions taken up after the suppression of the jesuits in the middle east and china among other problems the missionaries found themselves in the middle of fights over jansenism but tempered by the success of the canonization of saint vincent de paul this is an important down to earth side of history not often told
