this biography of the 12th century islamic military leader provides a fascinating view of the crusades and the medieval muslim world saladin was a kurkish military leader who led the fight against the crusades and rose to become first sultan of egypt and syria he united warring muslim lands reconquered the bulk of crusader states and faced king richard i of england in one of the most famous confrontations in medieval warfare his extraordinary character and career are the key to understanding the battle of hattin the fall of jerusalem and the failure of the third crusade historian geoffrey hindley s study of saladin s life and times presents a nuanced portrait of this remarkable man who dominated the middle east in his day it also offers fascinating insight into the politics and culture of the 12th century muslim world if films drawing on middle east tropes often highlight white westerners figures such as sinbad and the thief of bagdad embody a counter tradition of protagonists derived from islamic folklore and history who are portrayed as other to western audiences in muslim heroes on screen daniel o brien explores the depiction of these characters in euro american cinema from the silent era to the present day far from being mere racial masquerade these screen portrayals are more complex and nuanced than is generally allowed not least in terms of the shifting concepts and assumptions that inform their muslim identity using films ranging from douglas fairbanks the thief of bagdad the 7th voyage of sinbad el cid kingdom of heaven and the message to the wind and the lion o brien considers how the representational strategies of western filmmakers may transcend such muslim stereotypes as fanatic antagonists or passive victims these figures possess a cultural significance which cannot be fully appreciated by euro american audiences without reference to their distinction as muslim heroes and the implications and resonances of an islamicized protagonist alexander the great 356 333 bc was to capture the imagination of his contemporaries and future generations his image abounds in various cultures and literatures eastern and western and spread around the globe through oral and literary media at an astonishing rate during late antiquity and the early islamic period the first iskandarnama or the book of alexander now held in a private collection in tehran is the oldest prose version of the alexander romance in the persian tradition thought to have been written at some point between the eleventh and fourteenth centuries by an unknown author the lively narrative recasts alexander as iskandar a muslim champion a king and prophet albeit flawed but heroic and remarkably appropriated to islam though the historic alexander lived and died some 1 000 years before the birth of the faith this new english translation of the under studied text is the first to be presented unabridged and sheds fresh light onto the shape and structure of this vital document in so doing it invites a reconsideration of the transformation of a western historical figure and one time mortal enemy of persia into a legendary hero adopted by iranian historiographic myth making evangelos venetis the translator also offers a textual analysis providing much needed context and explanations on both content and subsequent reception this landmark publication will be invaluable to students and scholars of classical persian literature ancient and medieval history and middle east studies as well as to anyone studying the alexander tradition
