this is the second of a two volume set that constitutes the refereed proceedings of the second international conference on usability and internationalization uihcii 2007 held in beijing china in july 2007 the papers of this second volume cover global and local user interfaces and are organized in topical sections on designing global and local products and services as well as enhancing and personalizing the user experience user inclusion in innovation is increasingly the target of policy rhetoric at both organizational and societal levels and extensive research has demonstrated the potential contribution that users can make both at the front end of innovation with their ideas and insights and downstream facilitating adoption and diffusion however translating this potential into practice remains problematic not least because we need to understand more about how to hear user voices amplify their insights and provide practical channels for inclusion to ensure full co creation of innovation our earlier book from 2019 responsible innovation in digital health edward elgar added to the growing body of knowledge around whether users can be involved and this book opens up the how theme our work suggested a spectrum of user involvement ranging from those who can participate fully to those who are passive players in the innovation process and we explore in this book different tools techniques and mechanisms for enabling such users to become more involved in the innovation process we look at the concept of boundary innovation spaces as environments in which co creation can be enabled drawing on experience across a wide international research network we also explore the broader innovation environment the specific networks of actors and their interactions which define the innovation ecosystem where user inclusion may be embedded this book moves the discussion beyond the question of whether users can be more effectively included throughout the innovation process to explore the ways in which this might be enabled people relate to other people not to simplified types or segments this is the concept that underpins this book personas a user centered design methodology covers topics from interaction design within it through to issues surrounding product design communication and marketing project developers need to understand how users approach their products from the product s infancy and regardless of what the product might be developers should be able to describe the user of the product via vivid depictions as if they with their different attitudes desires and habits were already using the product in doing so they can more clearly formulate how to turn the product s potential into reality based on 20 years experience in solving problems for businesses and 15 years of research currently at the it university of copenhagen lene nielsen is denmark s leading expert in the persona method she has a phd in personas and scenarios and through her research and practical experiences has developed her own approach to the method 10 steps to personas this second edition of personas user focused design presents a step by step methodology of personas which will be of interest to developers of it communications solutions and innovative products this book also includes three new chapters and considerable expansion on the material in the first edition
