recently scholars in a variety of disciplines including philosophy film and media studies and literary studies have become interested in the aesthetics definition and ontology of the screenplay to this end this volume addresses the fundamental philosophical questions about the nature of the screenplay what is a screenplay is the screenplay art more specifically literature what kind of a thing is a screenplay nannicelli argues that the screenplay is a kind of artefact as such its boundaries are determined collectively by screenwriters and its ontological nature is determined collectively by both writers and readers of screenplays any plausible philosophical account of the screenplay must be strictly constrained by our collective creative and appreciative practices and must recognize that those practices indicate that at least some screenplays are artworks most producers and directors acknowledge the crucial role of the screenplay yet the film script has received little academic attention until recently even though the screenplay has been in existence since the end of the 19th century analysing the screenplay highlights the screenplay as an important form in itself as opposed to merely being the first stage of the production process it explores a number of possible approaches to studying the screenplay considering the depth and breadth of the subject area including the history and early development of the screenplay in the united states france and britain the process of screenplay writing and its peculiar relationship to film production the assumption that the screenplay is standardised in form and certain stories or styles are universal the range of writing outside the mainstream from independent film to story ideas in bhutanese film production to animation possible critical approaches to analysing the screenplay analysing the screenplay is a comprehensive anthology offering a global selection of contributions from internationally renowned specialist authors together they provide readers with an insight into this fascinating yet complex written form this anthology will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students on a range of film studies courses particularly those on scriptwriting after decades of neglect the screenplay is finally being recognized as a form that deserves serious critical analysis this book for the first time combines detailed study of the theory and practice of screenwriting with new approaches to criticism and original studies of individual texts the development of a film screenplay is a complex and collaborative process beginning with an initial story and continuing through drafting and financing to the start of the shoot and yet the best ways of understanding and managing this process have never been properly studied the screenplay business is the first book to do exactly that addressing such questions as how do film scripts get written and what are the tensions between creativity and business how can the team of the writer producer director and development executive work together most effectively the screenplay business presents a theoretical and practical framework for understanding the business of independent script development and encompasses ideas about creativity motivation managing creative people value chains and mba leadership theories this book will help producers and writers to nurture their stories through the long development process to the screen it explains the international film business and contains new research and extensive interviews with leading industry figures including practical advice on how to run script meetings and handle notes how to build a sustainable business and how to understand what really happens when a script is written the screenplay business is a new key text for academics and students researching film and media and indispensable reading for anyone working in film screenplay development today writing the screenplay not only guides you through the stages needed to create a good screenplay but also encourages you to develop dramatic situations as well as creating vivid characters and the right structure for your story the book is divided into two sections part one focuses on preparing to write while part two goes through the writing process in straightforward and easy steps from developing the idea to the final rewrite full of insight and drawing on the author's many years experience of writing and teaching this book uses a wide range of examples from screenplays to illustrate the process of screenwriting in an entertaining and informative way the screenplay is currently the focus of extensive critical re-evaluation however as yet there has been no comprehensive study of its historical development international in scope and placing emphasis on the development and variety of screenplay texts themselves this book will be an important and innovative addition to the current literature aspects of the screenplay deals with film dialogue how best to write it while also focusing on other critical aspects of the screenplay
