human rights have gained increasing prominence on the international european and uk stage this updated edition reflects developments in case law and legislation ensuring students have access to the most current material a companion web site features case updates and links to useful sites this book focuses on one of the most significant issues of our time international human rights using the theme of visions seen by those who dreamed of what might be the author explores the dramatic transformation of a world patterned by centuries of traditional structures of authority gender abuse racial prejudice class divisions and slavery colonial empires and claims of national sovereignty into a global community that now boldly proclaims that the way governments treat their own people is a matter of international concern and sets the goal of human rights for all peoples and all nations this textbook provides a thorough and systematic overview of human rights law including the most relevant practice and case law but also dealing with theoretical issues it pursues an original approach seeking to reconcile its didactic purpose with a scientific one positing that there must be a necessary synergy between these two purposes furthermore the author is convinced that international human rights law should not be studied as is done in virtually every textbook as a special legal regime separate and autonomous from the overall system of international law but as a regime that is fully integrated into the international legal order the book's dominant theme is the interrelationship of international human rights law and general international law following this approach the author has chosen to devote comparatively little content to institutional issues part iv and to instead more intensively explore the structural impact of human rights law on the entire international order part i on the sources part ii and obligations part iii of general international law and what constitutes fundamental human rights part v without neglecting other rights part vi

this study examines and analyzes human rights issues from a comparative perspective as the concept of universal human rights gains increasing acceptance in the international community it has come into conflict with formulations of human rights existing in different cultures and legal systems of the world an attempt is made in this study to provide a comprehensive understanding of patterns of human rights values and violations extant in various societies chapters incorporated in this manuscript will include topics relevant to both international relations and comparative politics
