the markets for electricity gas and temperature have distinctive features which provide the focus for countless studies for instance electricity and gas prices may soar several magnitudes above their normal levels within a short time due to imbalances in supply and demand yielding what is known as spikes in the spot prices the markets are also largely influenced by seasons since power demand for heating and cooling varies over the year the incompleteness of the markets due to nonstorability of electricity and temperature as well as limited storage capacity of gas makes spot forward hedging impossible moreover futures contracts are typically settled over a time period rather than at a fixed date all these aspects of the markets create new challenges when analyzing price dynamics of spot futures and other derivatives this book provides a concise and rigorous treatment on the stochastic modeling of energy markets ornstein uhlenbeck processes are described as the basic modeling tool for spot price dynamics where innovations are driven by time inhomogeneous jump processes temperature futures are studied based on a continuous higher order autoregressive model for the temperature dynamics the theory presented here pays special attention to the seasonality of volatility and the samuelson effect empirical studies using data from electricity temperature and gas markets are given to link theory to practice managing school districts for high performance brings together more than twenty case studies and other readings that offer a powerful and transformative approach to advancing and sustaining the work of school improvement at the center of this work is the concept of organizational coherence aligning organizational design human capital management resource allocation and accountability and performance improvement systems to support an overarching strategy this central idea provides a valuable conceptual framework for current and future school leaders the case studies presented in managing school districts for high performance grow out of the public education leadership project pelp a unique partnership between the harvard business school the harvard graduate school of education and a network of urban school districts this rich array of cases explores the managerial challenges districts face as they seek to ensure rich learning opportunities and high achievement for all students across a system of schools this book of insightful case studies fills a void long felt by educational administrators in search of practical real world training tools it will serve as a catalyst for the tough conversations district leaders need to have about achieving high quality outcomes for all students the broad center for the management of school systems has used many of these cases with great success and we are excited that they are now compiled into a single collection dan katzir managing director the broad foundation this volume is not a treatise about how schools and districts should work rather it provides a deep immersion in the real dilemmas involved in advancing school district reform anyone who works through these cases cannot help but come away with a more informed vision for change a more reflective orientation about the interrelationships among the multiple tasks involved and a more prudent grasp of what it takes to educate all children to high academic standards the course of study presented by managing school districts for high performance should be required professional education for anyone charged with advancing a coherent agenda of school improvement in our diverse demanding and rapidly changing society anthony s bryk spencer professor of organizational studies stanford university this set of case studies offers practitioners policymakers and scholars the opportunity to learn from the collective wisdom and real life experiences of educational leaders involved in systemic transformation implementing coherent reform strategies designed to improve and sustain student performance often takes place in a vacuum as a former urban superintendent i believe that these selected educational case studies provide a compelling forum for shared experiential teaching and learning arlene ackerman christian a johnson professor of outstanding educational practice teachers college columbia university this collaboration between the harvard business school and the harvard graduate school of education provides a set of analytical tools to address the most complex and challenging issues facing urban public schools the contemporary case studies document actual choices and constraints and point to patterns and similarities across organizations from urban schools to corporate environments carol johnson superintendent boston public schools stacy childress is a lecturer at harvard business school richard f elmore is the gregory r anrig professor of educational leadership at the harvard graduate school of education allen s grossman is the mba class of 1957 professor of management practice at harvard business school susan moore johnson is the pforzheimer professor of teaching and learning at the harvard graduate school of education we study the effects of the threat of school vouchers and school stigma in florida on the performance of low performing schools using student level data from a subset of districts estimates of the change in school level high stakes test scores from the first year of the reform are consistent with the early results used by the state of florida to claim large scale improvements associated with the threat of voucher assignment however we also find that much of this estimated effect may be due to other factors while we estimate a small relative improvement in reading scores on the high stakes test for voucher threatened stigmatized schools we estimate a much smaller relative improvement on a lower stakes nationally norm referenced test further the relative gains in reading scores are explained largely by changing student characteristics we find more evidence for a positive differential effect on math test scores on both the low and highstakes tests however the results from the lower stakes test appear primarily limited to students in the high stakes grade finally we find some evidence that the relative improvements following the introduction of the a plan by low performing schools were more due to the stigma of receiving the low grade rather than the threat of vouchers abstract
