writing media scripts that work is a process that can be learned reading this book will not transform you into an accomplished media writer that takes constant practice instead the scriptwriter's handbook offers an approach to media writing assignments grounded in practical experience combined with study in the teaching of writing you won't find shortcuts or tricks here just sound advice and clear explanations of a process that has enabled William van Nostran and others to turn out scores of successful scripts. The book is divided into two parts. Part I presents a generic writing process that can be applied to any media writing project. You'll learn how to establish project goals, collect and organize information, develop ideas, write a script that makes the most of audio and visuals, incorporate feedback, edit, etc. Part II provides more detailed material related to writing for specific assignments and media such as instructional drama, unscripted formats, interactive video, teleconferencing, multi-image videowalls, and live media. Each medium's inherent advantages and challenges are described, and numerous examples are included throughout the text. The final chapter on the business of scriptwriting discusses fees, maintaining writer's wellness, and what to do about writer's block, creativity vs. risk, using computers, and other practical concerns of professional writers while sharing the method for writing scripts that satisfy clients. The Scriptwriter's Handbook will help professionals expand and hone their writing skills. However, this book will also provide students and those new to the craft with a proven writing method applicable to any medium, including print, and examples of scripts that work. William J. van Nostran, an award-winning writer specializing in medical, instructional, and other private television markets, is senior writer for Video Marketing Group, Inc., White Plains, NY, a firm specializing in video for new media. Mr. van Nostran has written scripts for clients such as AT&T, Kraft, General Foods, Prudential Insurance, Dupont Bellcore, and Warner Lambert. His play Dream Machines received a New Jersey Council for the Arts Fellowship. He teaches a graduate course in corporate media at Fairleigh Dickinson University and frequently conducts workshops on scriptwriting and the creative process.

This work provides a wealth of information on obscure and overlooked American playwrights as well as some famous ones. It will be a welcome addition for collections specializing in the theater arts reference books. Bulletin of the Directory and Index, the first such volume devoted exclusively to contemporary Black American dramatists, will have an important place in theatre collections. It captures and preserves an elusive part of artistic endeavor, giving access to literally thousands of dramatic works that would otherwise be lost to scholars and the public. Organized as an encyclopedia, it provides information on more than 600 noteworthy Black American playwrights whose plays have been written, produced, or published between 1950 and the present. The volume begins with an introductory essay surveying the history of contemporary Black American drama. Playwrights, screenwriters, radio, and television scriptwriters, and musical theatre collaborators are treated in individual entries that comprise the bulk of the book. The volume also supplies a bibliography of anthologies, books, and periodicals cited, mailing addresses for more than 200 of the playwrights, and title and subject indexes.
