this book brings together multiple voices and positions from africa these voices assembled during a 2003 soap summit held in nairobi are powerful and varied and suggest ways in which issues of health could be tackled in an entertaining manner the summit organised by population communications international africa highlighted the critical role that the arts can play in ensuring better health especially among the youth it resulted from the recognition that young people in africa are faced with a myriad of problems and complications as they struggle to deal with growth and identity formation within a globalising social and economic setup they are in dire need of information on their own sexuality and how to deal with it and are getting conflicting signals from the mass media as well as their immediate environment the youth are under intense pressure from their peers to engage in premarital sex which is in most cases unprotected the hiv aids epidemic presents frightening challenges and all health programs should look for ways of dealing with it of great to concern is the vulnerability of women and girls in africa due to rising poverty gender violence lack of access to youth friendly reproductive health facilities and lack of a conducive infrastructure especially in informal settlements and in the rural areas the myriad problems presented by the pandemic require a multi sectoral approach this book brings together a number of strategies being undertaken in africa that combine entertainment and education in a positive way the voices from the soap summit are interspersed with those of the editor to create a dialogue on entertainment education that contributes to the discussion on the way social change might be undertaken contemporary africa and the foreseeable world ordersheds light on theplace of africa agency in the competitive and changing global system this book provides scholars policymakers and other stakeholders studying and working on african issues with innovative solutions strategies knowledge insights case studies and analyses to support decision making on how best african states should position themselves in the dynamic global system in order to influence key decisions featuring themes such as the african union au and the consequences of the discovery of oil in the non traditional oil exporting countries the editors and contributors have demonstrated why and how africa s position in the foreseeable world order is largely dependent on the influence of both existing and emerging world powers this book sets out to probe explore and evaluate the betrayal of anticolonial nationalism in kenya contemporary kenya s emergence is rooted in the colonial enterprise its deleterious effects and the subsequent decolonization spearheaded by a fierce anti colonial nationalism that was embodied in freedom struggles at the cultural political and military levels as a settler colony the colonial settlers hived off millions of hectares of the best land in the highland areas of kenya and appropriated them for themselves thereby generating a large mass of the landless this land alienation constituted one of the most deeply felt grievances which together with the exclusivist exploitative and oppressive colonial system inflamed anti colonial nationalism that undergirded the struggle for independence the expectation on the part of the masses was that independence would bring about social justice restitution of the stolen lands and a government based on the will and aspirations of the governed political developments soon after independence however demonstrated the extent of betrayal of the cause of anti colonial nationalism which has remained the reality to date this book covers the extent of this sense of betrayal from the time of independence to the present it begins by locating contemporary kenya within the colonial context then proceeds to thematic issues of betrayal including the fall out between president kenyatta and vice president odinga over ideology and issues of development which constituted the first betrayal the scourge of bureaucratic corruption and rent seeking the question of land and associated historical injustices and electoral malpractice since the return of multiparty politics in 1992 to the most recent elections of 2022 the implications of these dynamics for the future of the kenyan polity are delineated and discussed walter cohen argues that the history of european literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within europe and by the ties of european literature to world literature world literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages within that framework he shows that european literatures ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation european literature emerges from world literature before the birth of europe during antiquity whose classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of afro eurasia this legacy is later transmitted by latin to the various vernaculars the uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by romance literatures that development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of european literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the renaissance this expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of european literature into world literature and thus in the creation of todays global literary system the distinctiveness of european literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories kenya boasts of its high production of popular culture materials music tv shows movies popular fiction and now in this social media age memes gifs and short video clips all these are tailored to respond to the prevailing social economic and political conditions in the country while they are mostly humorous and entertaining the primary goal of many of these popular culture artefacts is to critique contemporary kenya despite its consumption though popular culture has remained highly undervalued and unappreciated as a tool for cultural social and political transformation many kenyans consume popular culture texts solely for entertainment purposes popular fiction since it is studied and examined in kenya s exam oriented schools is arguably the only form of popular culture that is seen as a means to an end passing one s exams this end however is hardly what authors usually have in mind when they produce the texts considering their contents this thesis examines kidagaa kimemwozea a swahili novel by ken walibora as a representation and critique of postcolonial kenya s social cultural and political situation exploring the political leadership of postcolonial kenya class dynamics and relations as well as gender issues i argue that walibora s novel does not only expose the kenyan bourgeoisie s cunningness in their oppression of the proletarians and the male ruse to dominate their female counterparts but it also proposes excellent paths of emancipation for the proletarians and women and should thus be given scholarly attention an invaluable contribution to the emerging body of african masculinity studies drawing on the epic folk tales proverbs and song genres the book explores the pervasive influence of orality on patterns of thought as well as underlying notions of masculinity in african societies through the work of writers such as chinua achebe ama ata aidoo ahmadou kourouma nuruddin farah and nawal el saadawi
