first published in 1979 this book developed out of a series of general discussions between the authors on research and theory in person perception and attribution phenomena during the course of this discussion two things became clear first many of the traditional approaches to investigating these phenomena made popular during the past decade by the advent of algebraic models of information integration were not providing answers to several fundamental questions concerning the manner in which social stimulus information is interpreted organized and stored in memory and the factors that affect its retrieval and use in making judgments of the people and events to which it is relevant second many fundamental issues associated with the processing of social stimulus information were relevant to phenomena investigated in a variety of traditionally segregated areas e g impression formation attribution social comparison interpersonal attraction belief and opinion change etc however these commonalities were rarely identified this appeared to result from a tendency to focus on micro theoretical formulations developed to account for a circumscribed set of phenomena without considering these phenomena within a broader conceptual framework this book is an attempt to respond to these various deficiencies living on the cusp is an autobiography regarding a colorful life filled with failures and missed opportunities but with final success i through my life enjoyed a multitude of various experiences starting by being raised on a large ranch and farming operation with influences from my dramatic parents and older achieving siblings providing a competitive effect while keeping me on a path towards achievements my perceptions of life have been shaped by being born into the great depression experiencing the events of world war ii being drafted into the u s army during the korean war playing my saxophone professionally being involved in the colorful entertainment industry working as a professional photographer and my many business ventures for good or for bad after my many varied and colorful female relationships i found my loving mate dorothy which added to building my success through our thirty eight years of challenges my life truly has been that of living on the narrow edge the cusp of life while facing the challenges trauma and positive events leading to success at the top of my own small but secure peak
