With contributions from authors as diverse as Guardian theatre critic Michael Billington and leading post-colonial critic Helen Gilbert and interview/discussion with Cate Blanchett and Tap Dogs producer Wayne Harrison, Playing Australia seeks to pay tribute to the complexities of Australian theatre experiences, to reassess Australian theatre as a significant force in the international arena and to challenge traditional thinking on what Australian theatre can be.

A theory of adaptation explores the continuous development of creative adaptation and argues that the practice of adapting is central to the story telling imagination. Linda Hutcheon develops a theory of adaptation through a range of media from film and opera to video games, pop music and theme parks, analysing the breadth, scope and creative possibilities within each. This new edition is supplemented by a new preface from the author discussing both new adaptive forms, platforms and recent critical developments in the study of adaptation. It also features an illuminating new epilogue from Siobhan O'Flynn focusing on adaptation in the context of digital media. She considers the impact of transmedia practices and properties on the form and practice of adaptation as well as studying the extension of game narrative across media platforms, fan based adaptation from Twitter and Facebook to home movies and the adaptation of books to digital formats. A theory of adaptation is the ideal guide to this ever evolving field of study and is essential reading for anyone interested in adaptation in the context of literary and media studies.
