made of the words of the people who live today in the beautiful embattled countryside of ulster irish folk history is in essence the people s own statement of their past in story song and spontaneous essay these texts selected from passing the time in ballymenone tell of the coming of christianity of endless war of the hardships and delights of rural life during a time of trouble henry glassie came into a community of active story tellers in county fermanagh in northern ireland and in this book he sets their voices their chuckles whispers and anger before us the words of hugh nolan michael boyle of peter flanagan hugh patrick owens and their neighbors echo from the page to present a tale that is at once the story of their tiny community and the story of all of ireland history of the nolan and miller families from their british origins in the 1500 s through their 20th century descendants in america with focus on the ancestors descendants and allied families of lewis elmer nolan 1870 1939 and his wife bertha orpha miller d 1959 lewis s grandparents left ballinasloe ireland and settled in new jersey in 1843 and then in norwalk wisconsin their youngest son lewis married bertha orpha miller the descendant of the british immigrant obadiah miller b 1645 lewis and bertha married in 1900 in wisconsin from the 1600 1800 s other nolans millers and other allied families lived in canada connecticut illinois kentucky massachusetts minnesota montana nebraska new jersey new york ohio west virginia and wisconsin some later families also moved to california iowa louisiana maine michigan north and south carolina mississippi north dakota oklahoma pennsylvania texas tennessee virginia washington and elsewhere christopher nolan s injuries at birth left him severely disabled and handicapped he was entirely paralyzed and unable to communicate but he had so much to say and was burning to express his innermost thoughts and ideas and share them with the world nolan s autobiography told in the third person through a narrator named joseph meehan is an astonishingly lyrical and inspired work filled with powerful description and touching moments of triumph sadness anger and above all disarming wit nolan s story has a touching and breathtaking intensity whether recounting his battle with local authorities to attend an ordinary school going on a normal vacation or his ultimate triumph of finally being able to share the insight and whimsy of his inner world filled with linguistic puzzles this bestseller in britain and the united states and whitbread prize winner features a unique voice that comes from a deep place many will never understand but that is enrapturing nevertheless rewatching on the point of the cinematic index offers a reassessment of the cinematic index as it sits at the intersection of film studies trauma studies and adaptation studies author allen h redmon argues that far too often scholars imagine the cinematic index to be nothing more than an acknowledgment that the lens based camera captures and brings to the screen a reality that existed before the camera when cinema s indexicality is so narrowly defined the entire nature of film is called into question the moment film no longer relies on a lens based camera the presence of digital technologies seemingly strips cinema of its indexical standing this volume pushes for a broader understanding of the cinematic index by returning to the early discussions of the index in film studies and the more recent discussions of the index in other digital arts bolstered by the insights these discussions can offer the volume looks to replace what might be best deemed a diminished concept of the cinematic index with a series of more complex cinematic indices the impoverished index the indefinite index the intertextual index and the imaginative index the central argument of this book is that these more complex indices encourage spectators to enter a process of ongoing adaptation of the reality they see on the screen and that it is on the point of these indices that the most significant instances of rewatching movies occur examining such films as john lee hancock's saving mr banks 2013 richard linklater's oeuvre paul greengrass's united 93 2006 oliver stone's world trade center 2006 stephen daldry's extremely loud and incredibly close 2011 and christopher nolan's dunkirk 2017 inception 2010 and memento 2000 redmon demonstrates that the cinematic index invites spectators to enter a process of ongoing adaptation seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject film science grade 1 3 university of münster language english abstract in my term paper i will examine the narrative structure in memento which switches between chronological narration and reversed temporality with respect to this unique narrative structure i will take a closer look at the black and white and colour sequences the opening sequence and the outstanding and resolute scene 22 especially regarding the cinematography used in the further course of my work you will learn of the essential role of the unreliable narrator regarding my thesis and finally what impact the fabula construction in memento has on his viewers causes and their effects are basic to narrative but they take place in time this quotation from bordwell's and thompson's work film art an introduction does not only show a fundamental principle of narration but furthermore depicts a possibility to manipulate the spectator's understanding of a story christopher nolan's memento is one example of what a complex narration can be the film shows two separate stories of leonard an ex insurance investigator who suffers anterograde amnesia and attempts to find the murderer of his wife which is the last thing he can remember on the one hand there is a forward moving storyline the black and white scenes while the other one the colour sequences tells the story backwards although the story behind the film is rather simple the narrative structure is extremely complex and clever which demands constant attention from its spectators this term paper will deal with the methods used in memento which mislead the audience's understanding of the story my thesis is therefore narrative complexity in christopher nolan's memento narrative structure narrator's unreliability fabula construction and cinematography as key elements for the spectator's manipulation apart from the film memento the central literature i will work with is the essay by stefano ghislotti narrative comprehension made difficult film form and mnemonic devices in memento the documentary anatomy of a scene about the making of memento a text by andy klein named everything you wanted to know about memento and different filmic narrativity by jakob lothe david herman and edward branigan in addition to that there is a self generated sequence analysis attached to the term paper in order to have an overall view of the scenes i take a closer look at this book offers new perspectives on race and transnationalism in nineteenth century american literary studies and ranges widely in developing new approaches to canonical and non canonical authors it will appeal to graduates and scholars working on nineteenth century american literature transnationalism and african american literary studies in the time of the troubles when bombs blew through the night and soldiers prowled down the roads henry glassie came to the irish borderland to learn how country people endure through history he settled into the farming community of ballymenone beside lough erne in the county fermanagh and listened to the old people for a decade he heard and recorded the stories and songs in which they outlined their culture recounted their history and pictured their world in their view their world was one of love defeat and uncertainty demanding the virtues of endurance faith bravery and wit glassie s task in this book is to set the scene to sketch the backdrop and clear the stage so that hugh nolan and michael boyle peter flanagan ellen cutler and their neighbors can tell their own tale which explains their conditions and converts them into a tragedy of conflict and a comedy of the absurd it gathers the saints and warriors and celebrates the stars whose wit enabled endurance in days of violence and deprivation with patience and respect glassie describes life in a time and a place exactly like no other and yet ballymenone is like a thousand other places where people work on the land during the day and tell their own tales at night forgotten while the men of power fill the newspapers and history books by sending poor boys out to be killed the stars of ballymenone is an integrated analysis of the complete repertory of verbal art from a rural community where storytelling and singing of quality remained a part of daily life the civil war is often credited with giving birth to the modern american state the demands of warfare led to the centralization of business and industry and to an unprecedented expansion of federal power but the civil war did more than that as melinda lawson shows it brought about a change in american national identity redefining the relationship between the individual and the government though much has been written about the civil war and the making of the political and economic american nation this is the first comprehensive study of the role that the war played in the shaping of the cultural and ideological nation state in patriot fires lawson explains how when threatened by the rebellious south the north came together as a nation and mobilized its populace for war with no formal government office to rally citizens the job of defining the war in patriotic terms fell largely to private individuals or associations each with their own motives and methods lawson explores how these interpreters of the war helped instill in americans a new understanding of loyalty to country through efforts such as sanitary fairs to promote the welfare of soldiers the war bond drives of jay cooke and the establishment of union leagues northerners cultivated a new sense of patriotism rooted not just in the subjective american idea but in existing religious political and cultural values moreover democrats and republicans abolitionists and abraham lincoln created their own understandings of american patriotism and national identity raising debates over the meaning of the american idea to new heights examining speeches pamphlets pageants sermons and assemblies lawson shows how citizens and organizations constructed a new kind of nationalism based on a nation of americans rather than a union of states a european styled nationalism grounded in history and tradition and celebrating the preeminence of the nation state original in its insights and innovative in its approach patriot fires is an impressive work of cultural and intellectual history as america engages in new conflicts around the globe lawson shows us that issues addressed by nation builders of the nineteenth century are relevant once again as the meaning of patriotism continues to be explored
