the anthology offers a distinctive perspective on a european union funded capacity building initiative aimed at enhancing contemporary teaching competencies with a specific emphasis on sri lanka and cambodia it discusses the augmentation of pedagogical skills and its consequential effects on both individual and societal levels furthermore the anthology scrutinizes the collaborative efforts in international education elucidating the strategies adopted to confront the challenges and leverage the opportunities encountered by higher education institutions despite armed internal conflict and the global financial crisis sri lanka has made remarkable progress in recent years enjoying healthy economic growth and substantially reducing poverty moreover sri lankans are the best educated people in south asia with widespread access and high completion rates in primary and secondary education economic growth and structural changes in the economy however make skills development imperative as sri lanka implements its plan the mahinda chintana mc to become a regional hub in strategic economic areas yet skills shortages and mismatches are widespread and firms with undereducated employees and a shortage of skilled labor are less productive an effective skills development system will help diversify the economy improve labor productivity and competitiveness give the country the flexibility it needs to compete effectively in the global economy and further reduce poverty as sri lanka moves from a factor driven to an efficiency driven economy its workforce is shrinking even as demand for skills especially sophisticated skills is rising unfortunately sri lanka has been slow to expand technical and vocational education and training tvet and tertiary education responsibility for tvet is fragmented the system is supply driven there is a shortage of reliable information on labor market skills demand and supply employers are sidelined and the resources invested are not linked to performance the mc recognizes the severity of the skills constraint and highlights the importance of investing in workforce skills to raise both productivity and competitiveness this report analyzes skills demand and supply in sri lanka and scrutinizes how skills are formed the factors shaping skills demand and the responsiveness of the system finally it offers suggestions for how skills development can be improved so that sri lanka can meet its economic growth and poverty reduction goals this book examines skills demand and supply in sri lanka and offers insightful analysis of the education and training system and its responsiveness to changes in demand for skills the book also provides suggestions on how the skills development system can be improved to better achieve sri lanka s development goals sri lanka has long been regarded as a model of a successful welfare state in a low income setting yet it has not succeeded in creating a sufficient number of good jobs for the increasing number of young people hence young sri lankans perceive their country as an unjust and unequal society in which mainstream institutions have failed to address inequalities in the distribution of resources as well as of benefits deriving from economic growth against this background the challenge of youth employment in sri lanka aims to identify ways to improve the opportunities available to new job market entrants by addressing existing inequalities and to help young people more fully realize their potentials drawing from original research and a review of existing studies the authors use the 4es conceptual framework to analyze four key aspects of labor markets employment creation employability entrepreneurship and equal opportunity identifying main issues and results current trends and possible new approaches this book illustrates the multiple roles of textbooks as victim transformer and accomplice to conflict by introducing the intersecting roles of education in conflict irec framework for use in the research development production distribution and dissemination of textbooks and learning materials the framework illustrates these three potentially overlapping roles by mapping the complex educational contexts of conflict affected societies and considering how textbooks learning materials and education systems more broadly may simultaneously operate within these various roles country case studies from asia europe africa and the middle east are used to analyze primary and secondary school textbook development content and application from a variety of approaches that articulate conflict as protracted and or socio political violence the breadth of case studies shows how conflict discourse circulates in educational systems and materials in a wide range of contexts indicating that the complexity of the relationship between textbooks and conflict is not unique to one culture geographic region or type of conflict study conducted in government schools of colombo sri lanka originally published in 1984 this book investigates the validity of educational qualifications how they are determined what justifications exist for them and how they change it examines the assumption linking education and productivity and explores the belief that the ways in which scholastic qualifications are acquired distort education in the investigations the labour market the school and community are not treated as black boxes with no questions asked of their contents each is opened and placed under the microscope human resource personnel are asked to explain qualifications and selection for jobs supervisors are asked to estimate the quality of their workers teachers are observed in classrooms parents are asked what they hope for when they send their children to school simultaneously research from a wide range of countries and cultures is explored presenting results of original research as well reviewing and synthesizing existing studies the publication provides an in depth analysis of sri lanka s youth unemployment by analyzing four key labor market aspects employment creation employability entrepreneurship and equal opportunity
