recognized as a masterly commentary when it first appeared, frederick dale bruner's study of matthew is now available as a greatly revised and expanded two volume work, the result of seven years of careful refinement, enrichment and updating. through this commentary, crafted especially for teachers, pastors and bible students, bruner aims to help god's people love what matthew's gospel says. bruner's work is at once broadly historical and deeply theological. it is historical in drawing extensively on great church teachers through the centuries and on the classical christian creeds and confessions; it is theological in that it unpacks the doctrines in each passage. chapter and section of the gospel consciously attempting to bridge past and present, bruner asks both what matthew's gospel said to its first hearers and what it says to readers today. as a result, his commentary is profoundly relevant to contemporary congregations and to those who guide them. bruner's commentary is replete with lively verse by verse discussion of matthew's text while each chapter expounds a specific topic or doctrine. the book's format consists of a vivid original translation of the text followed by faithful exegesis and critical analysis, a survey of historical commentary on the text and current applications of the text or theme under study. in this revision, bruner continues to draw on the best in modern scholarship, including recent work by w d davies and dale c allison jr, by ulrich luz and by many others, adding new voices to the reading of matthew. at the same time, he cites the classic commentaries of chrysostom, jerome, augustine, luther, calvin, bengel and the rest who, like bruner himself, were not simply doctrinal teachers but also careful exegetes of scripture. such breadth and depth of learning assure that bruner's matthew will remain as a reviewer for interpretation wrote the most dog-eared commentary on the shelf. volume 1 of bruner's commentary is called the christbook because the first twelve chapters of matthew are focused on the nature and work of christ. as bruner proceeds through these chapters, he shows how matthew presents step by step central themes of christology: jesus coming (chapters 1-4), his teaching (5-7), his miracles (8-9), his sermon on mission (10) and his person (11-12). throughout the book, there are also thoughtful discussions of significant topics such as baptism, marriage, jewish-christian relations and heaven and hell. eminently readable, rich in biblical insight and ecumenical in tone, bruner's two volume commentary on matthew now stands among the best in the field.

in this third volume of the biblical imagination series michael card leads us to see the unique purpose of matthew's gospel both in the lives of the early christians and for us today using the language of fulfillment matthew calls his readers to see their former identity confirmed even as it is recast in the dazzling image of christ
