formed by harvey s shipley miller trustee of the judith rothschild foundation and given to moma in 2005 the judith rothschild foundation contemporary drawings collection was conceived to be a broad survey of contemporary drawing practice and it more than fulfils that goal mixing drawings of the 1960s and 1970s with major works of the past twenty years by such artists as kai althoff robert crumb peter doig marcel dzama mark grotjahn charline von heyl martin kippenberger sherrie levine agnes martin fred sandback paul thel and andrea zittel among many others this definitive catalogue raisonné presents the collection as a whole with an introduction by christian rattemeyer five essays each focusing on a different geographic area of artistic production images throughout and a text on paper conservation now with a stunning new cover look for the 50th anniversary comes stephen king s legendary debut carrie white is no ordinary girl carrie white has the gift of telekinesis to be invited to prom night by tommy ross is a dream come true for carrie the first step towards social acceptance by her high school colleagues but events will take a decidedly macabre turn on that horrifying and endless night as she is forced to exercise her terrible gift on the town that mocks and loathes her participatory practice in space place and service design is premised on a belief in the importance of participatory practices in finding creative solutions to the plethora of problems we face today it argues that engaging professions with the public in mutual exploration analysis and creative thinking is essential it not only ensures better quality products places services and a greater sense of civic agency but also facilitates fuller access to them and the life opportunities they can unleash this book offers a uniquely varied perspective of the myriad ways in which participatory practices operate across disciplines and how they impact the worlds and communities we create and inhabit this book suggests that participatory practices are multi disciplinary and relevant in fields as diverse as design architecture education health care sustainability and community activism to name a few of those discussed here how do designed objects and environments affect wellness creativity learning and a sense of belonging how do products and services affect everyday experience and attitudes towards issues such as sustainability how does giving people a creative voice in their own education services and built environments open up their potential and strengthen identity and civic agency addressing these questions requires a rethinking of relations between people objects and environments it demands attention to space place and services
