i began my quest for the supreme being over 2000 years ago i was a famous conqueror in that life i loved only one thing then myself life gave me one success after another and i thought i would conquer eternity i was seen as the favored of the gods in the end came the encounter with truth i was humbled by death my eyes opened i realized there is a supreme reality that no one can conquer i surrendered to it the quest for the true began in me i lived many lives after that in this quest i meditated in complete devotion spent many hours in introspection explored the mysteries of creation reasoned surrendered to great masters and received guidance and blessings finally the supreme being revealed itself i awakened to the supreme reality i found the ultimate freedom and joy this book was revealed during my experiences with the supreme being the purpose of the book is to reveal about the supreme being and the supreme reality it will remind the self about its original quest after reading it no self can be the same again no self can avoid falling in love with the true reality it shares about the true relationship of the self with the supreme being as well as about the purpose of life bondage of the mind the path to experience the supreme being and true living knowing the ultimate has remained the innermost quest of every human being since the beginning mystics philosophers emperors kings conquerors scientists explorers and discoverers all wanted to arrive there the mind cannot come to rest without this knowledge deep within we seek a heaven we have imagined it with the ultimate in everything we want beauty power security knowing peace happiness contentment we seek to know about it and find a path going there we wish to experience it while living we love life we never want it to end so we have to live it for the reason we are here to know it we have to know the truth from a grain of sand a blade of grass a drop of water to many distant stars we have come to know something about the world we think we will arrive at an ultimate knowing by dividing and microscopically looking into things in the infinitely vast physical universe we ignore the fact that this visible universe is itself an infinitesimal speck in the unknowable vastness beyond we think we will analyze data theorize and understand the whole and once we have ultimate knowing we will have power over everything in creation even life and death but all we are doing is growing a very knowledgeable confused complicated doubtful disordered unhappy discontented and restless mind and its center we perceive as our i our present self identity is an illusion and impermanent our experience is incomplete because it is relative partial and extremely limited the new reveals itself every day but our ultimate truth remains elusive why because there is one domain we have never entered the search for our source and our true i it is in this realm we will experience what we are actually seeking spontaneous knowing uncaused happiness everlasting identity and infinite living
