globalisation is more complex than ever the effects of the global financial crisis and increased inequality have spurred anti globalisation sentiment in many countries and encouraged the adoption of populist and inward looking policies this has led to some surprising results duterte brexit and trump to name a few in indonesia the disappointment with globalisation has led to rising protectionism a rejection of foreign interference in the name of nationalism and economic policies dominated by calls for self sufficiency meanwhile human trafficking and the abuse of migrant workers show the dark side of globalisation in this volume leading experts explore key issues around globalisation nationalism and sovereignty in indonesia topics include the history of indonesia s engagement with the world indonesia s stance on the south china sea and the re emergence of nationalism the book also examines the impact of globalisation on poverty and inequality labour markets and people especially women we are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive classic literature collection this book is a reproduction of an important historical work unlike some other reproductions of classic texts we have not used ocr optical character recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos also in books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc we have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy we use state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works whatever hour you woke there was a door shutting from room to room they went hand in hand lifting here opening there making sure a ghostly couple here we left it she said and he added oh but here too it s upstairs she murmured and in the garden he whispered quietly they said or we shall wake them but it wasn t that you woke us oh no they re looking for it they re drawing the curtain one might say and so read on a page or two now they ve found it one would be certain stopping the pencil on the margin and then tired of reading one might rise and see for oneself the house all empty the doors standing open only the wood pigeons bubbling with content and the hum of the threshing machine sounding from the farm what did i come in here for what did i want to find my hands were empty perhaps it s upstairs then the apples were in the loft and so down again the garden still as ever only the book had slipped into the grass finally available a high quality book of the original classic edition of dick merriwell abroad the ban of the terrible ten it was previously published by other bona fide publishers and is now after many years back in print this is a new and whatever hour you woke there was a door shutting from room to room they went hand in hand lifting here opening there making sure a ghostly couple here we left it she said and he added oh but here too it s upstairs she murmured and in the garden he whispered quietly they said or we shall wake them but it wasn t that you woke us oh no they re looking for it they re drawing the curtain one might say and so read on a page or two now they ve found it one would be certain stopping the pencil on the margin and then tired of reading one might rise and see for oneself the house all empty the doors standing open only the wood pigeons bubbling with content and the hum of the threshing machine sounding from the farm what did i come in here for what did i want to find my hands were empty perhaps it s upstairs then the apples were in the loft and so down again the garden still as ever only the book had slipped into the grass

be certain stopping the pencil on the margin and then tired of reading one might rise and see for oneself the house all empty the doors standing open only the wood pigeons bubbling with content and the hum of the threshing machine sounding from the farm what did i come in here for what did i want to find my hands were empty perhaps it is upstairs then the apples were in the loft and so down again the garden still as ever only the book had slipped into the grass but they had found it in the drawing room not that one could ever see them the window panes reflected apples reflected roses all the leaves were green in the glass if they moved in the drawing room the apple only turned its yellow side yet the moment after if the door was opened spread about the floor hung upon the walls pendant from the ceiling what my hands were empty perhaps it was the middle of january in the present that i first looked up and saw the mark on the wall in order to fix a date it is necessary to remember what one saw so now i think of the fire the steady film of yellow light upon the page of my book the three chrysanthemums in the round glass bowl on the mantelpiece yes it must have been the winter time and we had just finished our tea for i remember that i was smoking a cigarette when i looked up and saw the mark on the wall for the first time i looked up through the smoke of my cigarette and my eye lodged for a moment upon the burning coals and that old fancy of the crimson flag flapping from the castle tower came into my mind and i thought of the cavalcade of red knights riding up the side of the black rock rather to my relief the sight of the mark interrupted the fancy for it is an old fancy an automatic fancy made as a child perhaps the mark was a small round mark black upon the white wall about six or seven inches above the mantelpiece this is how it all came about six or seven of us were sitting one day after tea some were gazing across the street into the windows of a milliner s shop where the light still shone brightly upon scarlet feathers and golden slippers others were idly occupied in building little towers of sugar upon the edge of the tea tray after a time so far as i can remember we drew round the fire and began as usual to praise men how strong how noble how brilliant how courageous how beautiful they were how we envied those who by hook or by crook managed to get attached to one for life when poll who had said nothing burst into tears poll i must tell you has always been queer for one thing her father was a strange man he left her a fortune in his will but on condition that she read all the books in the london pg 10 library we comforted her as best we could but we knew in our hearts how vain it was for though we like her poll is no beauty leaves her shoe laces untied and must have been thinking while we praised men that not one of them would ever wish to marry her at last she dried her tears for some time we could make nothing of what she said strange enough it was in all conscience she told us that as we knew she spent most of her time in the london library reading she had begun she said with english literature on the top floor and was steadily working her way down to the times on the bottom and now half or perhaps only a quarter way through a terrible thing had happened she could read no more books were not what we thought them books she cried rising to her feet and speaking with an intensity of desolation which i shall never forget are for the most part unutterably bad
