the manifestly imperfect condition in which these homilies have come to us may partly be accounted for by the circumstances of the times in which they were preached it was in the easter weeks of the third year of his residence at constantinople as archbishop that st chrysostom began this course of sermons and during all the remaining part of that year a d 400 the capital of the east was kept in constant trouble and alarm by the revolt of gainas and the goths moreover scarcely had the preaching commenced when the complaints from the churches of asia minor were brought may 400 before the metropolitan see which business during many months painfully occupied the archbishop s thoughts and eventually demanded his presence at ephesus
