a thorough and sparkling translation of an essential commentary on one of the most profound practices of tibetan buddhism the extremely secret dakini of naropa has become the basis for almost every subsequent vajrayogini commentary in the gelug tradition kyabje pabongkha's commentary is both very thorough in its presentation and deeply inspiring providing rich detail on essential elements of vajrayogini practice all eleven yogas of the generation stage the transference of consciousness tsok offering left sided conduct and many other auxiliary practices there is also a stunning explanation of the completion stage that provides many extraordinarily profound methods unique to the practice of vajrayogini the second half of the book contains several sadhanas for the practice of vajrayogini including six session guru yoga as well as two sadhanas on the transference of consciousness this is a teaching that practitioners can use to transform themselves into a buddha like the artists who shape beautiful images out of raw materials gelek rinpoche accessible and practical teachings on the life of naropa with verse by verse commentary on his two most important mahamudra songs by a contemporary karma kagyu master naropa is one of the accomplished lineage holders of the mahamudra tradition of tibetan buddhism in this book khenchen thrangu rinpoche a beloved mahamudra teacher first tells the extraordinary story of naropa's life and explains its profound lessons he follows this with lucid and practical commentaries on two of naropa's songs of realization explaining their precious instructions for realizing mahamudra the nature of one's mind throughout thrangu rinpoche speaks plainly and directly to westerners eager to receive the essence of mahamudra instructions from an accomplished teacher this book presents contributions from different authors covering the mythical basis for different religions it also shows how psychology and philosophy have been influenced by myths a garland of gold is a history of the early masters of the great kagyu tradition of tibetan buddhism such as saraha naropa marpa milarepa and their spiritual heirs this history represents the testament of the kagyu lineage forefathers showing us how they developed devotion and confidence in their gurus received the inspiration of the dakini messengers obtained the precious lineages attained the vision of mahamudra and spread the keys to enlightenment their songs also translated here though incomplete without a master's textual transmission offer a connection with the world of mahamudra. Lama Jampa Thaye's account of the early masters is based on the histories composed by Pawo Tsuklak Trengwa (1504–1566), Go Lotsawa (1392–1481), and Pema Karpo (1527–1592). He received the transmissions and teachings of the Kagyu forefathers from Karma Thinley Rinpoche and his other gurus such as Atö Rinpoche and Khenchen Thrangu Rinpoche. The Kagyu tradition is one of the four major schools of Tibetan Buddhism alongside the Sakya, Nyingma, and Gelug. It rose to prominence in the eleventh and twelfth centuries C.E., some one and a half millennia after the passing of Lord Buddha, and remains one of the great spiritual transmissions available in the world today. This book offers a remarkable look into the origins of this world.

A fresh interpretation of the dakini, a Tibetan Buddhist symbol of the feminine that will appeal to practitioners interested in goddess worship, female spirituality, and tantric Buddhism. The primary emblem of the feminine in Tibetan Buddhism is the dakini, or sky dancer, a semi-wrathful spirit woman who manifests in visions, dreams, and meditation experiences. Western scholars and interpreters of the dakini, influenced by Jungian psychology and feminist goddess theology, have shaped a contemporary critique of Tibetan Buddhism in which the dakini is seen as a psychological shadow, a feminine savior, or an objectified product of patriarchal fantasy. According to Judith Simmer-Brown, who writes from the point of view of an experienced practitioner of Tibetan Buddhism, such interpretations are inadequate in the spiritual journey of the meditator. Simmer-Brown demonstrates that the dakini symbolizes levels of personal realization, the sacredness of the body, both female and male, the profound meeting point of body and mind in meditation, the visionary realm of ritual practice, and the empty, spacious qualities of mind itself. When the meditator encounters the dakini, living spiritual experience is activated in a nonconceptual manner by her direct gaze, her radiant body, and her compassionate revelation of reality grounded in the author's personal encounter with the dakini. This unique study will appeal to both male and female spiritual seekers interested in goddess worship, women's spirituality, and the tantric tradition.

A robust and holistic approach to resolving conflict like a hand pulling back the curtain from parts of us that have been closeted away. This book reveals ways we can use more of ourselves in addressing conflict a set of commentaries that present some of the most rarefied and secret teachings within tibetan buddhism from the perspective of the dalai lama s gelug school the blazing inner fire of bliss and emptiness presents lucid translations of a pair of detailed commentaries by the famed tibetan tantric master ngulchu dharmabhadra 1772 1851 illuminating a set of extremely secret and restricted tantric practices of highest yoga tantra the first of these commentaries details the practices of the six yogas of naropa one of the most celebrated and revered systems of completion stage practice in tibet dharmabhadra presents the six yogas by elaborating upon lama tsongkhapa s 1357 1419 masterpiece on the subject entitled endowed with the three inspirations which served as the basis for nearly all subsequent commentaries on the six yogas within the gelug tradition ngulchu dharmabhadra s commentary is unique in that it presents the six yogas within the context of vajrayogini practice making this book a perfect companion piece to the extremely secret dakini of naropa wisdom publications 2020 also contained in this book is ngulchu dharmabhadra s lucid and concise commentary on the first panchen lama s 1570 1662 famous supplication for liberation from fear of the perilous journey of the intermediate state the prayer a beautiful literary contribution from the first panchen lama in its own right invokes the immediacy of death and the potential to use the process of dying as an opportunity for liberation the prayer extols the efficacy of the nine mixings of the completion stage as direct means of transforming our ordinary death process by using advanced yogas presented in the first commentary on the six yogas together these works present the reader with a vast and profound vision of spiritual transformation one in which every aspect of human experience can be used as an opportunity for transcendence and spiritual liberation must buy for anyone interested in the tantric dimensions of buddhism rechungpa's spiritual biography is one of the most interesting because rechungpa had a great deal of pride and often did not do what his guru milarepa told him to do as one reads this story one sees how rechungpa interacts with his guru and gradually begins to develop true realization combining practical advice like that of harville hendrix with spiritual teaching like those of thomas merton the bestselling author of journey of the heart challenge of the heart and awakening the heart creates an extraordinary book about the sacred power of intimate relationships
