exploring the multifaceted history of dispossession consumption and inequality in west central africa mariana p candido presents a bold revisionist history of angola from the sixteenth century until the berlin conference of 1884 5 synthesising disparate strands of scholarship including the histories of slavery land tenure and gender in west central africa candido makes a significant contribution to ongoing historical debates she demonstrates how ideas about dominion and land rights eventually came to inform the appropriation and enslavement of free people and their labour by centring the experiences of west central africans and especially african women this book challenges dominant historical narratives and shows that securing property was a gendered process drawing attention to how archives obscure african forms of knowledge and normalize conquest candido interrogates simplistic interpretations of ownership and pushes for the decolonization of african history

described as ground breaking in kent mcneil s foreword this book develops an alternative approach to conventional aboriginal title doctrine it explains that aboriginal customary law can be a source of common law title to land in former british colonies whether they were acquired by settlement or by conquest or cession from another colonising power the doctrine of common law aboriginal customary title provides a coherent approach to the source content proof and protection of aboriginal land rights which overcomes problems arising from the law as currently understood and leads to more just results the doctrine s applicability in australia canada and south africa is specifically demonstrated while the jurisprudential underpinnings for the doctrine are consistent with fundamental common law principles the author explains that the australian high court s decision in mabo provides a broader basis for the doctrine a broader basis which is consistent with a re evaluation of case law from former british colonies in africa as well as from the united states new zealand and canada in this context the book proffers a reconceptualisation of the crown s title to land in former colonies and a reassessment of conventional doctrines including the doctrine of tenure and the doctrine of continuity with rare exceptions the existing literature does not probe as deeply or question fundamental assumptions as thoroughly as dr secher does in her research she goes to the root of the conceptual problems around the legal nature of indigenous land rights and their vulnerability to extinguishment in the former colonial empire of the crown this book is a formidable contribution that i expect will be influential in shifting legal thinking on indigenous land rights in progressive new directions from the foreword by professor kent mcneil to read the foreword please click on the sample chapter link relative to the other habited places on our planet hawai i has a very short history the hawaiian archipelago was the last major land area on the planet to be settled with polynesians making the long voyage just under a millennium ago our understanding of the social political and economic changes that have unfolded since has been limited until recently by how little we knew about the first five centuries of settlement building on new archaeological and historical research sumner la croix assembles here the economic history of hawai i from the first polynesian settlements in 1200 through us colonization the formation of statehood and to the present day he shows how the political and economic institutions that emerged and evolved in hawaii during its three centuries of global isolation allowed an economically and culturally rich society to emerge flourish and ultimately survive annexation and colonization by the united states the story of a small open economy struggling to adapt its institutions to changes in the global economy hawaii offers broadly instructive conclusions about economic evolution and development political institutions and native hawaiian rights
