minerva's night out presents series of essays by noted philosopher and motion picture and media theorist Noël Carroll that explore issues at the intersection of philosophy motion pictures and popular culture presents a wide ranging series of essays that reflect on philosophical issues relating to modern film and popular culture authored by one of the best known philosophers dealing with film and popular culture written in an accessible manner to appeal to students and scholars coverage ranges from the philosophy of halloween to vertigo and the pathologies of romantic love making the stage is a collection of essays that examines the role of theatre drama and performance in contemporary culture a culture that is growing increasingly technological and isolated seemingly at odds with the very nature of theatre a collaborative and sometimes very primitive art form through the course of these essays it is clear that theatre not only survives some of the challenges of the day but even defines discussions particularly political ones which are prohibited by an increasingly manipulated media the essays from a diverse group of theatre scholars examine the mechanics of theatre from space to sound to the use of technology the role of women in creating theatre the relationship between theatre and literary art forms the politics of theatre science and theatre and the role of performance art through them all it is clear that theatre drama and performance continue to speak in significant ways
