a comprehensive study of the nexus between democratization and security in the mediterranean which are seen as essentially complementary yet threatened by political trends witnessed since the september 2001 attacks contributors from a variety of european and mediterranean countries address the impact of a restructured security system europe's effort to establish an autonomous security and defence policy and attempts among the mediterranean partner countries mpes to build regional security regimes key events in asia's recent history have included the end of the cold war the asian economic crisis and the war on terror this is a critical assessment of these events and of the interplay of security and economics in shaping political regimes and modifying market systems based on the notion that market systems are inherently political and conflict ridden this collection clarifies and explains the conflicts shaping the path of neoliberal globalization collectively it represents a disciplined and systematic address of four overarching questions what are the significant conflicts emanating from neoliberal globalization and what are their implications what are the implications of new security concerns for these conflicts and what are their impacts how are conflicts associated with globalization and security affecting social and economic policy directions can these directions be reconciled with the reproduction of existing political regimes or do they threaten their basis in addressing these questions the essays depict neoliberal globalization in the new security context as being able to accommodate a range of political regimes this fascinating collection is a must read for those with a professional interest in the region post 9 11 this book was previously published as a special issue of the journal critical asian studies the idea for this book is derived from the scantiness of academic references on the european union's policies towards the black sea relative to this region's officially stated significance for the eu even though the eu plays a vital role in black sea political agendas the eu's cooperation with the region is not extensively covered by academic discussions and literature this is mostly due to the fact that the eu's focus on foreign affairs is mainly associated with the balkans as part the current and potential expansion and the middle east as a direct consequence of the upheaval of the arab spring the black sea region is crucially important for the eu because of the opportunities and challenges that the region presents both politically and socio economically contributions to this book mostly focus on specific issues of eu black sea cooperation from conflict to the environment to democracy and how these particular relationships are perceived within the region as well as through the lenses of stakeholders such as russia turkey and the usa overall the collection focuses on projecting a more efficient role and a holistic strategy for the eu in its approach towards the black sea region testifying to the need for a strong eu presence for this reason the black sea area remains the neighbourhood too close to yet still far from the european union this book was originally published as a special issue of the journal of balkan and near eastern studies this book is the first systematic attempt to study the situation of european and american muslims after 9 11 and to present a comprehensive analysis of their religious political and legal situations since 9 11 and particularly since the madrid and london bombings of 2004 and 2005 the muslim presence in europe and the united states has become a major political concern many have raised questions regarding potential links between western muslims radical islam and terrorism whatever the justification of such concerns it is insufficient to address the subject of muslims in the west from an exclusively counter terrorist perspective based on empirical studies of muslims in the us and western europe this edited volume posits the situation of muslim minorities in a broader reflection on the status of liberalism in western foreign policies it also explores the changes in immigration policies multiculturalism and secularism that have been shaped by the new international context of the war on terror this book will be of great interest to students of critical security studies islamic studies sociology and political science in general jocelyne cesari is an associate at harvard s center for middle eastern studies and the center for european studies teaching at harvard divinity school and the government department specializing in islam and the middle east any study of africa s multiparty elections reveals inherent institutional and systemic difficulties that raise questions about the electoral outcomes in the emerging democracies an assessment of electoral processes in africa poses methodological conceptual and theoretical challenges to scholars and practitioners the chapters of this volume address these issues through an assessment of the electoral processes and an examination of democratisation trends in africa with special focus on case studies the chapters on algeria cameroon ghana malawi mozambique and south africa analyse these complexities holistically they examine the potency and independence of electoral institutions adherence to electoral laws by those charged with the statutory powers as well as the participants in the elections the role of the media election monitors and observers civil society and political parties the authors also assess whether or not elections were conducted in a free and fair environment conducive for multiparty electoral practice and consolidation in this book martin mcquillan brings derrida s writing into the immediate vicinity of geo politics today from the kosovan conflict to the war in iraq the chapters in this book follow both derrida s writing since specters of marx and the present political scene through the former yugoslavia and afghanistan to palestine and baghdad his textual activism is as impatient with the universal gestures of philosophy as it is with the complacency and reductionism of policy makers and activists alike this work records a response to the war on thinking that has marked western discourse since 9 11 this 84 hour free course assessed the wider consequences of the 9 11 terrorist attacks on domestic and world politics and the media first published in 2004 routledge is an imprint of taylor francis an informa company the author examines the consequences of september 11 in canada including an assessment of anti terrorism measures such as the anti terrorism act the smart border agreement canadian participation in the war in afghanistan changes to refugee policy the 2001 security budget and the proposed public safety act he also looks at opposition the anti terrorism act warns that exceptions to legal principles made to fight terrorism may spread to attempts to combat other crimes and suggests that canadian law may not provide adequate protection against invasions of privacy or discriminatory profiling of people as potential terrorists other topics covered include the challenge september 11 presents for canadian sovereignty on key components of foreign military and immigration policy the possibility that canadian forces participated in violations of international law in afghanistan the threat of nuclear and biological terrorism and aviation safety ten years after the 9 11 attacks this book reassesses the effectiveness of the war on terror considers how al qaeda and other jihadist movements are faring explores the impact of wider developments in the islamic world such as the arab spring and discusses whether all this suggests that a new approach to containing international especially jihadist terrorism is needed among the book s many richly argued conclusions are that the war on terror and the invasions of afghanistan and iraq have brutalised the united states that the jihadist threat is not one but rather a wide range of separate unconnected struggles and that al qaeda s ideology contains the seeds of its own destruction in that although many muslims are content to see the united states worsted they do not approve of al qaeda s violence and are not taken in by the jihadists empty promises of utopia
