since the battle of the little bighorn george armstrong custer has possessed one of the most unique places in american history although he was a capable cavalry officer who served honorably during the civil war he remains one of the most instantly identifiable and famous military men in american history due to the fact he was killed during one of the country's most well known and ignominious defeats the battle of little bighorn at the same time this one relatively insignificant battle during america's indian wars has become one of the country's most mythologized events and continues to fascinate americans nearly 140 years later on the morning of june 25 custer's scouts discovered a native american village about 15 miles away in the valley of the little bighorn river choosing to disregard his superiors orders to wait for a concerted effort the grandstanding custer intended to deliver his own decisive victory by dividing his command into three units an extremely bold tactic when done in the face of a much larger force due to their belief in the inferiority of the plains indians and mindful of previous indian tactics that sought to avoid pitched battle custer and his men were most concerned with forcing the action and failed to understand the true nature of the situation they had entered the native american gathering centered around the famous sioux chief sitting bull numbered roughly 8 000 individuals and about 2 000 of them were warriors custer's forces amounted to a mere 31 officers 566 troopers and 50 scouts and civilians and they had been split into three columns in order to stop a possible retreat before the battle it is believed custer thought he was facing a group of about 800 which was sitting bull's strength in the weeks before the battle however the army's native american scouts and civilian scouts had not adequately informed the army of the reinforcements that arrived and at little bighorn custer's three pronged attack was completely overwhelmed how custer met his fate and whether there even was a last stand remain subjects of debate but what is known is that the battle of the little bighorn was one of the u.s. military's biggest debacles all told the 7th cavalry suffered over 50 casualties with over 250 men killed and over 50 wounded the dead included custer's brothers boston and thomas his brother in law james calhoun and his nephew henry reed custer and his men were buried where they fell a year later custer's remains or more accurately the remains found in the spot labeled with his name were relocated to west point for final interment a history of two south american world war i naval battles between germany and great britain the defeat that rear admiral sir christopher cradock suffered at coronel in 1914 at the hands of maximilian graf von spee one of germany's most brilliant naval commanders was the most humiliating blow to british naval prestige since the eighteenth century and a defeat that had to be avenged immediately on 8 december 1914 the german squadron steamed towards port stanley unaware that in the harbour lay two great british battle cruisers the invincible and inflexible realizing this spee had no option but to turn and flee hour by hour during that long day the british ships closed in until eventually spee was forced to confront the enemy with extraordinary courage and against hopeless odds the german cruisers fought to the bitter end at five thirty that afternoon the last ship slowly turned and rolled to the bottom cradock and britain had been avenged despite the voluminous historical literature on the first world war a volume devoted to the theme of communication has yet to appear from the communication of war aims and objectives to the communication of war call up and war experience and knowledge this volume fills the gap in the market including the work of both established and newly emerging scholars working on the first world war across the globe the volume includes chapters that focus on the experience of belligerent and also neutral powers thus providing a genuinely representative dimension to the

it is estimated that around 50 000 brigade lads served in the first world war during which many honors and distinctions were awarded the brigade contributed two service battalions of the king's royal rifle corps whose members were comprised entirely of past and present members of the church lads brigade these were known as pals battalions the story of the battalion centers around the experiences of eight men who served and some who died in the battles of the somme arras and the lys in the latter half of the nineteenth century influential christians were worried about the poor spiritual and physical development of young people it was at that time that brigade groups began to spring up all over the uk walter mallock gee who was secretary of the junior branch of the church of england temperance society and a volunteer army officer founded the church lads brigade in 1891 by 1908 the membership of the brigade stood at about 70 000 in 1 300 companies when the call to arms came from field marshal horatio herbert kitchener in 1914 thousands of britain's youth flocked to join the armed forces members of the church lads brigade joined up in their droves at recruiting stations all over great britain two battalions were formed entirely from serving and ex members of the church lads brigade the 16th service battalion and later the 19th service battalion both sponsored by the church lads brigade became known as the churchmen's battalion in 1914 no one could have imagined the horrendous stories that would unfold from the bloody massacre at so many notorious battles across belgium and the fields of flanders ypres passchendaele somme arras lys and the brutal decimation of the battalion during the hell of the fighting at high wood no one could have imagined the discomfort and disease brought on by living in a trench full of water for days on end or over the top through acres of knee high mud more than 24 of the church lads brigade were awarded a victoria cross for their bravery but by 1918 many of those gallant young lads would not return home this is their story the author and the publishers acknowledge that some material in this title has been taken from the website 1914 1918 net without permission or acknowledgement and are grateful to the copyright holder chris baker for granting this permission retrospectively with the withdrawal of french forces from south vietnam in 1955 the us took an ever widening role in defending the country against invasion by north vietnam by 1965 the us had americanized the war relegating the army of the republic of vietnam arvn to a supporting role while the us won many tactical victories it had difficulty controlling the territory it fought for as the war grew increasingly unpopular with the american public the north vietnamese launched two large scale invasions in 1968 and 1972 both tactical defeats but strategic victories for the north that precipitated the us policy of vietnamization the drawdown of american forces that left the arvn to fight alone this book examines the maturation of the arvn and the major battles it fought from 1963 to its demise in 1975 despite its flaws the arvn was a well organized and disciplined force with an independent spirit and contributed enormously to the war effort had the us vietnamized the war earlier it might have been won in 1967 1968
