aira is at it again yall the ex school teacher is now happily married and a full time mother she and adam has provided love and security for their family in the big house nestled between trees on the land he had always dreamed of owning is there a such thing as happily ever after or is it more realistic to take it day by day they wanted it all and went after it and aira s journal became thick with her ideas poems and stories of the mayfield s and their big crazy family still grounded in traditions her friendship with mercedes and debra she describes in her special way the detail of their lives and the bond that helps them all through the changes and adversity we all journey through each day they are wild loyal and generous just like the people you know a compound life is a humorous take on everyday life and maybe even a quirky look at some of our adventures at the compound and some of life s often overlooked simple pleasures and even some lackluster boring and mundane chores that we all must do the compound is a magical mystical kind of place where only good things are supposed to happen you may find a little satire or even a slight embellishment in some of the stories now and again a compound life i think dorothy said it best there s no place like home grab yourself a cold drink a glass of wine or a bottle of wine for that matter hell grab a couple of six packs while you re at it invite a few friends over and start your own book club sit back relax and enjoy i think you ll be glad you got that drink during the great depression pulp fiction writers created a new distinctly american detective story one that stressed the development of fascinating often bizarre characters rather than the twists and turns of clever plots this new crime fiction adapted brilliantly to the screen birthing a cinematic genre that french cinema intellectuals following world war ii christened film noir set on dark streets late at night in cheap hotels and bars and populated by the dangerous people who frequented these locales these films introduced a new antihero a tough brooding rebellious loner embodied by humphrey bogart as sam spade in the maltese falcon and philip marlowe in the big sleep this volume provides a detailed exploration of film noir tracing its evolution the influence of such legendary writers as dashiell hammett and raymond chandler and the films that propelled this dark genre to popularity in the mid 20th century the 525 notable works of 19th and 20th century american fiction in this reference book have many stage movie television and video adaptations each literary work is described and then every adaptation is examined with a discussion of how accurate the version is and how well it succeeds in conveying the spirit of the original in a different medium in addition to famous novels and short stories by authors such as Nathaniel Hawthorne, F. Scott Fitzgerald, and Willa Cather, many bestsellers, mysteries, children's books, young adult books, horror novels, science fiction, detective stories, and sensational potboilers from the past two centuries are examined.

So more secrets sleepover stories told in darkness, volume 2 for tweens and teens by William A. Stricklin. William A. Stricklin's three-volume series, So More Secrets, preserves legendary tales and ghost stories he has told in darkness for over half a century. He has told these stories to children in the Cook Islands, who called him Tusitala to his children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, and sleepover friends throughout his travels worldwide. Children have been enthralled by his fanciful spooky tales told in darkness around the campfire while roasting and eating. So More Secrets' favorites of these stories are right inside. Volume 2 is filled with Hawaiian legends and adventure stories for tweens and teens. Stricklin writes for his daughter Mary Eliska, his son Bill, and grandsons Kona Kai and Kamuela.
