a scholarly attempt to blend the past cultural and traditional life of the ntuegbe people with the present inter cultural experience few literary phenomena are as elusive and yet as persistent as realism while it responds to the perennial impulse to use literature to reflect on experience it also designates a specific set of literary and artistic practices that emerged in response to western modernity landscapes of realism is a two volume collaborative interdisciplinary investigation of this vast territory bringing together leading edge new criticism on the realist paradigms that were first articulated in nineteenth century europe but have since gone on globally to transform the literary landscape tracing the manifold ways in which these paradigms are developed discussed and contested across time space cultures and media this second volume shows in its four core essays and twenty four case studies four major pathways through the landscapes of realism the psychological pathways focusing on emotion and memory the referential pathways highlighting the role of materiality the formal pathways demonstrating the dynamics of formal experiments and the geographical pathways exploring the worlding of realism through the encounters between european and non european languages from the nineteenth century to the present this volume is part of a book set which can be ordered at a special discount

i am inspired to write this book for our youths and for posterity this book has been written to give values to life of the youths who otherwise would not have known what happened far back before their great grandfathers up to fourth to fifth generation this will help them to give values to life and to know what was noble and what was traditionally an abomination so that it will guide them to fashion their lives achieve what is noble and die peaceful deaths this book also aims at showing that there is very little difference between a worthy christian life and an ideal traditional life what is good for the gander is good for the geese good and evil exist whether one is a christian or a traditionalist god exists and the belief is nearly the same to both religions what is different is the mode of worship
