think of all the senses you use when you pick up a bible what do you see what do you smell what do you touch reading scripture attentively is more than a matter of sight most of us have been taught to think about god in visual terms yet the very subject matter of scripture our relationship with the fullness of god makes irresistible demands upon all of our senses if we are to begin to understand anything about god in these meditations on stories from the new testament roger ferlo shows us how to read the bible in a full bodied way with all the senses attuned for just as a printed recipe cannot substitute for a mouth watering feast so the bible must be brought to life through the senses its stories must be seen heard touched smelled and tasted only then ferlo believes can we truly begin to encounter in our lives the word of god to us in scripture sensing god is one of our series of cowley cloister books smaller format gift edition books designed for meditative and devotional reading this is a topically organized introduction to the traditional problems of philosophy it aims to introduce readers to traditional philosophical problems and to expose readers to philosophical argumentation in such a way that they will feel confident in handling abstract concepts introduction this book is divided into 50 reading days incorporating substantial commentary and scripture references all scriptures are pertinent to receiving the most from each daily reading leading us to know god better and his will for our lives knowing god could be very simple but in practice it rarely is there is only one god and that is jesus christ our lord and saviour everyone who truly seeks jesus will find him god calls people to know who he is and be saved god the father son and holy spirit are one the lord jesus christ is also known in the bible as the word of god and reading it regularly is precious to his people we long to be in his presence reading the bible scriptures and listening to his wise counsel so we build ourselves up refreshing ourselves in the wisdom that only god can give to us anticipating and delighting to be with him in our devotional times and throughout the day our god and best friend is always with us providing wisdom knowledge and understanding he is our strength comfort joy and song in our hearts therefore it is always a good thing to encourage ourselves in his presence to prepare the day ahead with him the lord god knows us and at any time welcomes his people into communion with him there is no other place we would rather be than living our lives alongside our god and king the father and jesus are always with us and in us by the holy spirit for they are one knowing god looks at scriptures to get to know god people often disassociate the author of the bible from the bible itself god s word is god s voice god s voice is from god s mind and heart let s get to know the one who has created us and enjoy his word from the vantage point of getting insight into his ways and his character and not just look at the bible as a moral code book or historical account of the nation of israel and the church apart from learning of the one who has spoken through those men who have written it a new way to read the bible spiritual disciplines are simply ways to open ourselves to god they help us become aware of the many ways god speaks to us and provide us with ways to respond to god this book explores and explains how the historical disciplines and perspectives of the christian faith can deepen both our walk with god and our community with others reading the bible is something that most of us are familiar with some even do it regularly but do we really think about how we read and respond to scripture how deeply do we allow ourselves to be impacted by it contemplative bible reading or lectio divina as it is often called is an ancient method of approaching scripture consisting of four parts this method begins with the selected biblical passage and moves to meditating praying and contemplating what god is revealing through the bible many of us tend to think of meditation as something done individually but reflecting on scripture in a small group invites us to act and encourages us to share with others how god is calling us to respond contemplative bible reading examines this spiritual discipline and invites your small group to approach scripture in a new and challenging way by exploring different passages and learning to hear god s voice in them this guide will help you meditate and act on the truth of the bible
