how nineteenth century women used the bible to claim their voice on the moral questions of their day caught between their identity as christians and social norms that silenced them american women used scripture to claim moral and then rhetorical agency they reinterpreted familiar biblical passages recovered previously ignored stories about women and contested passages used to circumscribe women s activities by strategically adopting a rhetorical posture of dissent these women became prophetic voices in american society in your daughters will prophesy lisa marie gring pemble and martha watson analyze the argumentative resources four women jarena lee sarah moore grimké lucretia coffin mott and frances willard used to counter gendered restrictions and gain access to platform and pulpit catalyzing what became known as the woman s movement mothers today face unprecedented pressure as contemporary american society feeds into the culture of intensive mothering leading many to be consumed by their role as mothers many grapple with additional expectations stemming from the teachings of today s evangelical church rather than serving as a countercultural influence encouraging women to cultivate their primary identity in christ women often receive the message that to be a good christian they need to make mothering their top priority the effects of this ideology impact not only women who are mothers but also the church and society at large how does scripture inform this conversation including both biblical mothers and references to god as mother which biblical and historical mothers have been celebrated why and how do they stack up with today s expectations how can mothers today simultaneously follow god and faithfully fulfill their roles as mothers and how can the church support this endeavor this book seeks to reset mothering expectations for the church today by examining examples and expectations of mothers as depicted by scripture and church history namely the expectation to locate primary identity in christ speech and silence in contemporary children s literature brings a fresh perspective to a central literary question who speaks by examining a variety of represented silences these include children who do not speak do not yet speak effectively or speak on behalf of others a rich and unexamined literary archive explores the problematics of children who are literally silent or metaphorically so because they cannot communicate effectively with adults or peers this project centers children s literature in the question of voice by considering disability gender race and ecocriticism children s literature rests on a paradox at the root of its own genre it is produced by an adult author writing to a constructed idea of what children should be by reading a range of contemporary children s literature this book scrutinizes how such texts narrate the child s journey from communicative alterity to a place of empowered adult speech sometimes the child s verbal enclosure enables privacy and resistance at other times silence is coerced or imposed or arises from bodily impairment children may act as intermediaries speaking on behalf of species that cannot recently we have seen children exercise their voices on the world stage and as authors in all cases the texts analyzed here reveal speech as a minefield to be traversed children who talk too much too little or with insufficient expertise pose problems to themselves and others implicitly and sometimes explicitly they attempt to hold adults to account inside and outside the text speech and silence in contemporary children s literature addresses this underconceptualized subject in what will be an important text for scholars of children s literature childhood studies english disability studies gender studies race studies ecopedagogy and education
