the author of such works as a brighter sun 1952 the lonely londoners 1956 and the plains of caroni 1970 west indian novelist samuel selvon is attracting growing amounts of scholarly attention nonetheless criticism of his works has largely been imbalanced with most scholarship focusing primarily on his language this book corrects that imbalance by placing selvon s novels within historical sociological and ideological contexts a new interpretation of selvon s achievement as a novelist the volume looks for the first time at his works in terms of categories of novels peasant middle class and immigrant the book demonstrates that each category is different from the others and that novels within categories are similar thus it provides a coherent vision of selvon's canon it illustrates as well the development of selvon's philosophy of west indians as peasant bourgeois and immigrant in doing so it explores the significance of ethnicity in his works and discusses selvon's imaginative apotheosis of the indo trinidadian peasant and the diminution of the afro trinidadian immigrant the volume also studies selvon's fictional and rhetorical techniques and argues that his works range from bildungsroman to picaresque to epic to satire this full length study traces the evolution of selvon from fledgling author of poems and short fiction to an established short story writer and novelist it argues that selvon enjoys a special place in west indian literature because of his celebration of the enormous struggle of the indo trinidadian peasant out of the cane experience into every professional field and politics back cover
