spatial theories of de Certeau, Deleuze, Massey, Agamben, Rancière, Žižek and Grosz amongst others. Aitken argues that spaces are transformative to the degree that they open the political and he highlights the complexly interwoven political, economic, social and cultural practices that simultaneously embed and embolden people in places. If we think of spaces as events and events encourage change, then spaces and people become other through complex relations. Taking poetry to be an emotive construction of language, Aitken re-visualizes contours and arranges people's words and gestures to this volume begins with the early modern period when avant-garde artists were challenging the traditional aesthetic with constructivism and futurism in Russia, Dadaism and Surrealism in Germany and France and new forms of photography, collage, photomontage, photograms and so on were emerging throughout the Western art world. Included also are influential mid-century essays by Gaston Bachelard, Leo Steinberg and William S. Ivins as well as essays on contemporary art issues by L. Lippard, F. Sommer and J. Snider.

In this his last significant work, an admired French philosopher provides extraordinary meditations on the relations between the imagining consciousness and the world, positing the notion of reverie as its most dynamic point of reference. In his earlier book, The Poetics of Space, Bachelard considered several kinds of praiseworthy space conducive to the flow of poetic imagery. In Poetics of Reverie, he considers the absolute origins of that imagery: language, sexuality, childhood, the Cartesian ego, and the universe. Approaching the psychology of wonder from the phenomenological viewpoint, Bachelard demonstrates the auriferous potential of all that awareness. Thus he distinguishes what is merely a phenomenon of relaxation from the kind of reverie which poetry puts on the right track, the track of expanding consciousness.

This book introduces a revolutionary poetics based on the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze, the most famous contemporary philosopher. He overturns the traditional metaphysics and aesthetics. This book develops Deleuze's deep insight and vision into the new world of life, literature and art. He is very friendly to modern and contemporary literature and art which make the inaudible audible, the invisible visible. Transversing his major works, this book presents unique poetics overturning all the traditional poetics including Aristotle's poetics, Romanticism's poetics, Formalism and Structuralism's poetics. Contents: 1. Antilogos and Poem 2. Sign and Poem 3. Multiplicity and Poem 4. Singularity and Poem 5. Ritornello and Poem

Can architecture directly engage with the inner experience of people? Does it have universal or spiritual content? Poetics in Architecture attempts to address these questions by looking at the essence of meaning of architecture and considering the human response to buildings. Schaik's concern is that by focusing on technical refinements and new procedural models, architects are in danger of alienating the collective human connections we make with buildings. This title brings together the views of a fascinating and diverse group of architects and theoreticians from all over the world, including Bolles, Wilson, Boyarsky, Wilson, Winka, Dubbledam, Sean, Godsell, Mark, Goulthorpe, of Deco, and Tom Kovac.

The present book examines William Carlos Williams's negotiation with cultural modes and systems of the Chinese landscape tradition in his landscape writing, focusing on Williams's landscape modes of landscape without infused emotions. The book builds a linkage between their interactions with Chinese landscape aesthetics and shows how these conversations helped shape Williams's cross-cultural landscape poetics. The exploration of Williams's experiment with the Chinese serene interplay of self and landscape, the interfusion of scene and emotion, an idea of seeing from the perspective of Wang Guowei's theory of jingjie and the poetic space of frustration and completion in the context of space and human geography expand the understanding of a cross-cultural landscape tradition developed by Williams through bringing into focus the convergence of East-West poetics.

Adopting artist-poet Joe Brainard as its principal focus, this project presents Pop Poetics not as a minor coterie movement meriting a sympathetic footnote in accounts of the postwar era's literary history but as a missing link that confounds and potentially unites any number of supposedly rigid critical distinctions: authenticity versus formalism, the personal versus the mechanical, Pop Poetics matter argues Andrew Fitch, not just to the occasional aficionado of Brainard's I Remember but to anybody concerned with reconstructing the dynamic aesthetic exchange between postwar art and poetry.

gaston bachelard one of twentieth century france s most original thinkers is known by english language readers primarily as the author of the poetics of space and several other books on the imagination but he made significant contributions to the philosophy and history of science in this book roch c smith provides a comprehensive introduction to bachelard s work demonstrating how his writings on the literary imagination can be better understood in the context of his exploration of how knowledge works in science after an overview of bachelard s writings on the scientific mind as it was transformed by relativity quantum physics and modern chemistry smith examines bachelard s works on the imagination in light of particular intellectual values bachelard derived from science his trajectory from science to a specifically literary imagination is traced by recognizing his concern with what science teaches about how we know and his increasing preoccupation with questions of being when dealing with poetic imagery smith also explores the material and dynamic imagination associated with the four elements fire water air and earth and the phenomenology of creative imagination in bachelard s poetics of space his poetics of reverie and in the fragments of poetics of fire
