in our fast paced secular world god and theology are second class citizens money politics sports and science seem better suited to the hard realities of our world as the church steeple has been eclipsed by the skyscraper as the centerpiece of the urban landscape so has the divine realm been set aside in favor of more immediate human experience one sad consequence of this shift is the loss of spiritual and theological bearings most clearly evident in our inability to understand or speak about such things if the old way of viewing the universe no longer works something else has to replace it the powers that be reclaims the divine realm as central to human existence by offering new ways of understanding our world in theological terms walter wink reformulates ancient concepts such as god and the devil heaven and hell angels and demons principalities and powers in light of our modern experience he helps us see heaven and hell sin and salvation and the powers that shape our lives as tangible parts of our day to day experience rather than as mysterious phantoms based on his reading of the bible and analysis of the world around him wink creates a whole new language for talking about and to god equipped with this fresh world view we can embark on a new relationship with god and our world into the next millennium

why did jesus die what does it mean that jesus died for our sins christian theology has been wrestling with these questions for centuries and theologians have proposed lots of different answers and explanations in the form of theories of atonement but most of these theories fall short when confronted by a contemporary postmodern worldview many of these models come out of orthodox rather than free church traditions so they also lack the distinctive elements that characterize brethren ways of understanding god and the world the church of the brethren is well known for its acts of service and discipleship in the nonviolent model of jesus but it has not produced much constructive theology cooperative salvation attempts to remedy this situation by proposing a constructive brethren model of atonement it analyzes the diverse atonement models proposed throughout the christian tradition noting where they prove inadequate to address the shortcomings of other models this work draws on important claims of historical anabaptist and brethren theology while also incorporating ideas from feminist liberation and process theology in order to construct an understanding of atonement that contributes a contemporary brethren voice to the centuries long discussion of atonement global crises from pandemics to climate change demonstrate the vulnerability of the biosphere and each of us as individuals calling for responses guided by creative analysis and compassionate reflection transforming building on its companion volume awakening explores actions that create paths of understanding and collaboration as the groundwork for transformative community the community of scholars in this volume offers perspectives that collectively form a complex tapestry of resources the volume engages with the complex range of challenges and possibilities across a variety of sectors and provides an interdisciplinary approach to the prospects for transformative healing of human and non human communities and the global environment we inhabit spirituality is essential to this and as such the work explores vital dimensions of emerging spiritual concepts methods and practices that harbor interfaith potential for genuine reconciliation and communion mission as penance explores the posture of christian mission in canada while also uncovering the theological roots that gave birth to the sense of cultural and religious superiority that led to profound harm to others and to god s creation the story begins by an examination of johan bavinck s famous 1954 claim that mission is thus the penance of the church which is ashamed before god and man by drawing on his work through forty years in theological education and pastoral ministry fensham prescribes a pathway that liberates the church from power games numerical growth and preoccupation with programs and technology to focus instead on genuine listening solidarity and love in action true penance is never satisfied with passivity nor should it result in a state of paralysis for a posture of humble penance to be fruitful it must lead toward concerted action toward change advocacy for justice compassion for the marginalized and care for creation if mission in canada is engaged in this way the christian faith might cease to do harm and build a new life giving community of healing examines the origins and outcomes of the christian doctrine of atonement its biblical foundations development and theological questions surrounding it including questions about its relationship to the incarnation provided by publisher is spiritual warfare real is it just a metaphor for social justice do territorial spirits have a stranglehold on the planet what does the christian do with the rising fascination with the supernatural in western culture does any of this matter for daily life with meticulous care jon furgeson dives into the sea of perspectives and voices in the church and western culture bringing the reader on a journey to gain perspective after clearing the clutter and the confusion he presents a bold new yet faithful way to understand spiritual warfare to see how it affects every person to the foundations of who they are and how the spirit of god in christ acts in the midst of the fallen powers to take broken sinners and turn them into antifragile saints

f 14 flying ace sean woods has been ordered by the military to remain silent about the death of his best friend in a brutal terrorist attack and his government s reluctance to retaliate but the maniacal leader of a resurrected society of assassins dating back to the eleventh century isn t going to be satisfied with the blood that has already been spilled and a u s ally has offered sean the opportunity for vengeance that his superiors have denied him though it means taking actions without their knowledge that could spark the most devastating air battle since world war ii but if his own nation won t declare total war on a killer sean woods will
